Going the Distance U. S. Department of Health and Human Services, Health Resources and Services Administration, 2012-09-10 The Ryan White HIV AIDS Program was borne of a movement that began with the onset of the AIDS epidemic in America First by the tens then by the hundreds then by the thousands brave and committed people from all walks of life made a decision to get involved Some were public health officials others were activists Some were community leaders and others at least until that time were citizens quietly living their lives In this sixth edition of the U S Department of Health and Human Services HHS Health Resources and Services Administration HRSA HIV AIDS Bureau HAB Progress Report we celebrate the legacy of those first responders We also celebrate the incredible journey we have taken since 1990 when the first Ryan White Comprehensive AIDS Resources Emergency CARE Act was passed into law Who could have imagined in those early years that we would one day have treatments powerful enough to forestall the progression of HIV AIDS Who could have known that we would touch so many lives This year alone through scores of grantees and providers in cities and towns across America the Ryan White HIV AIDS Program will serve well over half a million people We continue to face hurdles in our fight against the epidemic but we have made enormous progress Highlights from this year include the following At 2.29 billion FY 2010 appropriations for the Program were the largest in Program history Our AIDS Education and Training Centers AETCs conducted more than 18 000 trainings Under the AIDS Drug Assistance Program ADAP we distributed medications to more than 175 000 clients We treated the people most disproportionately affected by HIV 73 percent of our clients were racial and ethnic minorities and 88 percent of our clients had no private health insurance We conducted research on innovative replicable models of HIV care to reduce health disparities in women of color improve access to oral health care establish linkages between jail settings and HIV primary care and expand health information technology and electronic medical systems We have been involved in the Healthy People 2010 broad based national collaborative to meet the Nation's most pressing health needs We continue to set the standard for HIV AIDS care using well respected performance measures This response to HIV AIDS constitutes nothing less than a modern public health miracle and within it lie other miracles too like that of an HIV positive person living into old age or the promising future that unfolds before the eyes of an HIV positive adolescent In this publication you will read about many of the milestones we have encountered in our 20 year journey and the many qualities that make our team successful We embarked on a quest that many would not We stepped up to the plate when others stepped away And today we constitute a powerful and cohesive force seldom seen in combating a single disease Our rewards lie in victory after victory over isolation and disease and in the improved lives of our clients It has been an amazing and empowering journey and it is not over We are trained We are committed We are full of resolve And we will not stop In this Progress Report we remember and we honor the determination of those first responders and of Ryan White himself It was the determination to go the distance for people living with HIV dropped 43% as a result of highly active antiretroviral therapy Unfortunately the complex system currently in place for financing and delivering publicly financed HIV care undermines the significant advances that have been made in the development of new technologies to treat it Many HIV patients experience delays in access to other services that would support adhering to treatment As a result each year opportunities are missed that could reduce the mortality morbidity and disability suffered by individuals with HIV infections Public Financing and Delivery of HIV AIDS Care examines the current standard of care for HIV patients and assesses the extent the system currently used for financing and delivering care allows individuals with HIV to actually receive it The book recommends an expanded federal program for the treatment of individuals with HIV administered at the state level This program would provide timely access and consistent benefits with a strong focus on comprehensive and continuous care and access to antiretroviral therapy It could help improve the quality of life of HIV AIDS patients as well as reduce the number of deaths among those infected
