TO: Geraldine Wilson, Faze

Re: AI engineer role

Dear Ms. Wilson,

Having heard about the AI engineer role from your CEO Harry Lambert, I feel that my mix of academic and industry expertise would be ideal for your stage of development.

After my Ph.D. in Artificial Intelligence from Oxford University, I embarked on a rewarding journey with the CellTech startup, where I led and contributed to AI-driven initiatives that drove spectacular outcomes. My contributions there included:

- Architecting a predictive analytics model that increased product recommendation accuracy by 34.2%, directly influencing a 25% growth in quarterly sales.
- Pioneering the implementation of a neural network-based solution for natural language processing, streamlining our customer support chatbot's efficiency, and reducing human intervention by 80%.
- Collaborating with a cross-disciplinary team to develop an AI-driven anomaly detection system for our infrastructure, resulting in a 20% decrease in downtime.

My proficiency encompasses a wide range of tools and platforms, such as TensorFlow and Keras, as well as expertise in deploying models at scale. I've also played an active role in transitioning traditional software systems to AI-enhanced systems, ensuring not only better performance but also scalability.

I have authored research papers that have been featured in AI conferences like NeurIPS and ICML, reflecting my commitment to both the practical and theoretical dimensions of the field. My recent paper on "Distributed Deep Learning Optimization Techniques" emphasizes my commitment to both the applied and research aspects of AI.

Your reputation for harnessing AI to create disruptive solutions and redefine industry standards precedes you. I would be honored to explore any potential opportunities during an interview.

Sincerely,

Cara Powell

don't bother to spell check before sending out the cover letter and resume. It's always a good idea to ask a friend or family member to check your letter for spelling errors and typos to give you a fresh perspective. Not including the name of the hiring manager. If you don't know who is going to read your cover letter and resume, try to find out. When in doubt, call the company and ask who the person in charge of that department is, so you can target your letter appropriately. Not writing to an audience. Focus each letter on each employer. According to Career Builder, 44 percent of executives polled said it's common for applicants to use their cover letters to show they've learned more about the job. Doing so can give you an edge against the competition. Failing to sell yourself. If you undersell your skills and qualifications, you won't make an impression on the reader. Don't just talk about your accomplishments; give concrete examples. Regurgitating the resume. Cover letters weren't meant as a tool to repeat everything that's in your resume. It's a tool to build on it and an opportunity to correlate your experience with the job you're applying for. Include any training classes, awards and recognition you've received in the past that might give you an edge over the competition.
