Women Artists in History from Antiquity to the Present (Fifth Edition) Wendy Slatkin, 2019-04 Women Artists in History from Antiquity to the Present introduces students to the many ways in which women have participated in the visual cultures of their societies throughout history The book focuses on women artists and the issues that directly impacted women s opportunities to become artists Part I examines the sparse yet promising documentation of women in art from prehistory through the Middle Ages In Part II students learn about an inspiring group of women artists who overcame institutional barriers to acquire skills and pursue professional careers from 1400 1800 Part III spans a deeply transitional century during which thousands of women developed professional skills and comprised about one half of the total population of artists Part IV explores how the development of Modernism worked to marginalize the works of women artists from 1900 1970 In the final part the positive effects of feminism for women artists in the United States and internationally are examined The fifth edition has been revised to incorporate current scholarship supplying students with a wealth of new insights with regard to factual data and interpretive strategies Suggested readings at the end of each chapter provide easy access to the expanded scholarly literature Featuring more than 110 images in color numerous excerpts from primary sources a glossary and curated list of readings Women Artists in History from Antiquity to the Present is ideal for introductory courses in art history women s studies and gender studies Voicing Our Visions Mara Rose Witzling, 1991

Over the centuries the art establishment has turned a deaf ear to the voices of women artists These women were not silent however but constantly struggling to articulate their experience For the first time the unique and powerful voices of twenty female artists of the nineteenth and twentieth centuries including such luminaries as Georgia O Keeffe Berthe Morisot Mary Cassatt Barbara Hepworth Faith Ringgold Paula Modersohn Becker and Frida Kahlo have been gathered together in a single volume These women all made eloquent and revealing disclosures about the personal and aesthetic issues that shaped their private lives and their work Often working in isolation beset by doubt and ignored by the commercial art world they kept written records of their anxieties their triumphs and their artistic themes and methods in a wide variety of formats Included are excerpts from private diaries letters essays articles poems stories and aesthetic manifestoes Much of the material appears in print for the first time The writings of artists have become an essential vehicle for understanding their art A milestone in art history Voicing Our Visions is compelling reading for anyone concerned with women and art This lively collection of texts provides a clearer understanding and deeper enjoyment of the work of twenty leading women artists Back

Cover In Her Own Words Wendy Slatkin, 2019-04 In Her Own Words A Primary Source Book of Autobiographical Texts by Women Artists in the 19th and 20th Centuries gives voice to sixteen influential women artists providing students with a highly personal lens through which they can analyze and interpret each artist's visual works. The material progresses chronologically to better situate the artistic and literary works of the featured women within a coherent cultural framework. The Introduction to the book defines the genres of self narratives and assists the reader in the development of interpretive strategies for comprehending primary sources. Within each chapter students read about an individual artist, author, learning about her life, the historical significance of her work, and the subject matter and stylistic idiom of her visual art and written texts. Readers then explore autobiographical narratives, journal and diary entries, and letters, works that illuminate each artist's early sense of artistic vocation, her creative process, her position on marriage and motherhood, her attitudes toward recognition, popular success, and the public persona of the artist, and her political beliefs and opinions on contemporary feminist movements. Women artists featured include Elisabeth Vigée Lebrun, Harriet Hosmer, Rosa Bonheur, Berthe Morisot, Marie Bashkirtseff, Paula Modersohn-Becker, Käthe Kollwitz, Georgia O'Keeffe, Frida Kahlo, Louise Nevelson, Elizabeth Catlett, Carolee Schneeman, Alice Neel, Judy Chicago, Faith Ringgold, and Louise Bourgeois. Featuring accessible and engaging narratives that contextualize and bring women artists' works to life, In Her Own Words is an ideal collection for courses in art history, gender studies, women's literature, and creative writing.

When women were admitted to the Royal Academy Schools in 1860, female art students gained a foothold in the most conservative art institution in England. The Royal Female College of Art, the South Kensington Schools, and the Slade School of Fine Art also produced increasing numbers of women artists. Their entry into a male-dominated art world altered the perspective of other artists and the public. They came from disparate levels of society. Princess Louise, the fourth daughter of Queen Victoria, studied sculpture at the National Art Training School, yet they all shared ambition, talent, and courage. Analyzing their education and careers, this book argues that the women who attended the art schools during the 1860s and 1870s, including Kate Greenaway, Elizabeth Butler, Helen Allingham, Evelyn De Morgan, and Henrietta Rae, produced work that would accommodate yet subtly challenge the orthodoxies of the fine art establishment. Without their contributions, Victorian art would be not simply the poorer but hardly recognizable to us today.
