The Uyghurs Strangers In Their Own Land:

The Uyghurs Gardner Bovingdon, 2010 For more than half a century many Uyghurs members of a Muslim minority in northwestern China have sought to achieve greater autonomy or outright independence Yet the Chinese government has consistently resisted these efforts countering with repression and a sophisticated strategy of state sanctioned propaganda emphasizing interethnic harmony and Chinese nationalism After decades of struggle Uyghurs remain passionate about establishing and expanding their power within government and China's leaders continue to push back refusing to concede any physical or political ground Beginning with the history of Xinjiang and its unique population of Chinese Muslims Gardner Bovingdon follows fifty years of Uyghur discontent particularly the development of individual and collective acts of resistance since 1949 as well as the role of various transnational organizations in cultivating dissent Bovingdon's work provides fresh insight into the practices of nation building and nation challenging not only in relation to Xinjiang but also in reference to other regions of conflict His work highlights the influence of international institutions on growing regional autonomy and underscores the role of representation in nationalist politics as well as the local regional and global implications of the war on terror on antistate movements While both the Chinese state and foreign analysts have portrayed Uyghur activists as Muslim terrorists situating them within global terrorist networks Bovingdon argues that these assumptions are flawed drawing a clear line between Islamist ideology and Uyghur nationhood

Resisting Under Occupation. A Palestinian - Uyghur Comparison Daniel James Schuster, 2017-08 This comparative study of the resistance behavior between the Palestinians and Chinese Uyghurs delineates the commonalities of the two case studies in terms of circumstances and resistance behavior while creating its research puzzle from their differences of the latter The research question asks what explains the variation in resistance behavior between the two groups given their similarities The study analyses the commonalities and differences of resistance behavior with regards to a resistance spectrum starting with frames How is the conflict framed continuing with an investigation of the non violent forms of action based resistance poetry songs protests etc concluding with an analysis of the violent forms of resistance The study relies upon four different theories in its hypotheses development in order to test different variables for explaining the research puzzle

Contestation and Adaptation Enze Han, 2013-09-19 This book compares five major ethnic groups in China and how they negotiate their national identities with the Chinese nation state Uyghurs Chinese Koreans Dai Mongols and Tibetans By studying their diverse pattern of national identity construction it sheds light on the nation building processes in China during the past six decades

Race, Ethnicity and Religion in Conflict Across Asia Kunal Mukherjee, 2021-02-27 This book looks at conflict zones in the Asia Pacific with a special focus on secessionist groups movements in the Indian Northeast Tibet Chinese Xinjiang the Burmese borderlands Kashmir in South Asia CHT in Bangladesh South Thailand and Aceh in Indonesia These conflict zones are predominantly ethnic minority provinces which by and large do not share a sense of oneness with the country that they are currently a part of most of these insurgencies have had strong linkages with separatist nationalist groups in the region Methodologically the author uses extensive fieldwork interview data and participant observation from these conflict zones to take a bottom up approach giving importance to the voices of ordinary people and or the residents of these conflict zones whose voices have generally been ignored Although the book looks at both the historical background and contemporary dimensions of these conflicts the author focuses on exploring how the role of race ethnicity and religion in these conflicts can be both direct and indirect This book will be of great interest to students and scholars of conflict and security in contemporary Asia with a background in politics history IR security studies religion and sociology Strangers in Their Own Land Gardner Bovingdon,2002 Alarmed at signs of increasing disaffection among Uyghurs and others the government has staged patriotism campaigns and trumpeted the virtues of a plural yet unified Chinese nation in an effort to bind the peoples of China tightly together Far from producing a more cohesive nation these campaigns have driven many non Han groups further away

International Journal of China Studies ,2011 Neue Bücher und Aufsätze in der Bibliothek Germany. Bundestag. Roberts,2020-09-08 How China is using the US led war on terror to erase the cultural identity of its Muslim minority in the Xinjiang region Within weeks of the September 11 attacks on New York and Washington the Chinese government warned that it faced a serious terrorist threat from its Uyghur ethnic minority who are largely Muslim In this explosive book Sean Roberts reveals how China has been using the US led global war on terror as international cover for its increasingly brutal suppression of the Uyghurs and how the war s targeting of an undefined enemy has emboldened states around the globe to persecute ethnic minorities and severely repress domestic opposition in the name of combatting terrorism Of the eleven million Uyghurs living in China today more than one million are now being held in so called reeducation camps victims of what has become the largest program of mass detention and surveillance in the world Roberts describes how the Chinese government successfully implicated the Uyghurs in the global terror war despite a complete lack of evidence and branded them as a dangerous terrorist threat with links to al Qaeda He argues that the reframing of Uyghur domestic dissent as international terrorism provided justification and inspiration for a systematic campaign to erase Uyghur identity and that a nominal Uyghur militant threat only emerged after more than a decade of Chinese suppression in the name of counterterrorism which has served to justify further state repression A gripping and moving account of the humanitarian catastrophe that China does not want you to know about The War on the Uyghurs draws on Roberts's own in depth interviews with the Uyghurs enabling their voices to be heard

The Uyghur Community Güljanat Kurmangaliyeva Ercilasun, Konuralp Ercilasun, 2017-11-03 This book analyses the Uyghur community presenting a brief historical background of the Uyghurs and debating the challenges of emerging Uyghur nationalism in the early 20th century It elaborates on key issues within the community such as the identity and current state of religion and worship It also offers a thoughtful and comprehensive analysis of the Uyghur diaspora addressing the issue of identity politics the position of the Uyghurs in Central Asia and the relations of the Uyghurs with Beijing notably analyzing the 2009 Urumqi clashes and their long term impact on Turkish Chinese relations Re examining Uyghur identity through the lens of history religion and politics this is a key read for all scholars interested in China Eurasia and questions of ethnicity and religion

Fear, Hope and Survival in Xinjiang Sarah Tynen, 2022-03-10 In this book Sarah Tynen one of the last Uyghur speaking ethnographers to do embedded fieldwork in Xinjiang chronicles the Chinese government's escalation of state terror and political control over the region and its citizens describing the increase in surveillance securitization and militarization of everyday life Using government documents and her own observations and interviews she describes neighbourhood level policing and a bureaucracy that systematically tracks and records the poorest and most vulnerable people and has led to the detainment of members of the native Uyghur community for mass internment Tynen also delves into the everyday lives of the Uyghur population in Xinjiang describing how they have found spaces of resistance and freedom amidst state oppression Tynen also shares groundbreaking insight into minority experiences amongst the Uyghurs themselves particularly women and queer people who face exclusion and marginalization not only by the Chinese state but also by Uyghur society itself The rich ethnographic detail of this study presents a story of how a people united and divided by inequality and driven by fear and hope resist and endure in a military police state

Oasis Identities Justin Ben-Adam Rudelson, 1997 Drawing upon extensive fieldwork in the Xinjiang oasis of Turpan Rudelson assesses the factors that undermine the creation of a pan Uyghur identity

The Great Dispossession Ildikó Bellér-Hann, Chris Hann, 2020 The Xinjiang Uyghur Autonomous Region of northwest China where the authors of this book have worked since 1986 has become increasingly unstable in recent decades The Uyghurs are the easternmost people of the Turkic Islamic civilizational belt that stretches across Central Eurasia The incorporation of this population into the Chinese nation state has been fraught with difficulty Central policies under socialism have fluctuated between generous encouragement of a distinct

Uyghur identity and harsh repression justified with accusations of separatism and religious fundamentalism Based on field research in the prefecture of Qumul in 2006 2009 this book explores how macro level tensions are played out locally and regionally in the fields of actualized history and identity social support and economic development and the political regulation of socio cultural life and religion Because I Have To Jewher Ilham,2021-10-28 When Jewher Ilham s father Ilham Tohti an internationally known advocate for peaceful dialogue between his Uyghur people and Han Chinese was detained at the Beijing airport in February 2013 on charges of separatism and later sentenced to life in prison Jewher was forced to begin a new life apart from her family in a new country There she found her voice as an advocate for her father and for Uyghur people being forced into concentration camps by the Chinese government In Because I Have To The Path To Survival The Uyghur Struggle Jewher shares an intimate account of how she maintained the strength and courage to fight for her father the sometimes emotional toll it took on her and the inspiration and loss of her mentor With the inclusion of testimonials of Uyghur camp survivors and others affected by the crackdown on Uyghurs in China Because I Have To the path to survival the Uyghur struggle tells the story of one person and of an entire culture under threat "Break Their Lineage, Break Their Roots" Beth Van Schaack,Stanford University. School of Law. International Human Rights and Conflict Resolution Clinic,2021 Xinjiang Year Zero Darren Byler,Ivan Franceschini,Nicholas Loubere,2022-01-25 Since 2017 the Chinese authorities have detained hundreds of thousands of Uyghurs Kazakhs and other Muslim minorities in reeducation camps in China s northwestern Xinjiang autonomous region While the official reason for this mass detention was to prevent terrorism the campaign has since become a wholesale attempt to remould the ways of life of these peoples an experiment in social engineering aimed at erasing their cultures and traditions in order to transform them into civilised citizens as construed by the Chinese state Through a collection of essays penned by scholars who have conducted extensive research in the region this volume sets itself three goals first to document the reality of the emerging surveillance state and coercive assimilation unfolding in Xinjiang in recent years and continuing today second to describe the workings and analyse the causes of these policies highlighting how these developments insert themselves not only in domestic Chinese trends but also in broader global dynamics and third to propose action to heed the progressive Left s call since Marx to change the world and not just analyse it Xinjiang Year Zero provides an analysis of the processes of dispossession being experienced by Uyghurs and other indigenous peoples of China s Uyghur region that is sorely needed today Most politicians and their followers today whether on the left or the right view what is happening to the peoples of this region through a twentieth century lens steeped in dichotomies that are obsolete in describing the nature of states today those of capitalism vs socialism and democracy vs totalitarianism The contributors to this volume explore what is happening in Xinjiang in the context of the twenty first century s racialised and populist fuelled state power global capitalist exploitation and ubiquitous surveillance technology At the same time they invite the reader to reflect on how the processes of dispossession in the Uyghur region

during the twenty first century are repeating the colonial practices of the nineteenth and twentieth centuries that have shaped our current global system of inequality and oppression The result offers an analysis of what is happening in Xinjiang that emphasises its interconnectedness to what is happening around us everywhere in the world If you believe that the repression in this region is a fabrication to manufacture consent for a cold war between the West and China you need to read this book Afterwards you will understand that if you want to stop a return to the twentieth century geopolitical conflicts embodied in the idea of a cold war you must establish solidarity with the Indigenous peoples of China s northwest and call for the end to the global processes fuelling their dispossession both inside China and outside Sean R Roberts Director of International Development Studies The George Washington University s Elliott School of International Affairs and author of The War on the Uyghurs Xinjiang Year Zero provides a highly readable and utterly necessary account of what is happening in Xinjiang and why By showing how the mass detentions of Uyghurs and other Xinjiang Muslims are linked to both global capitalism and histories of settler colonialism the edited book offers new ways of understanding the situation and thus working toward change A must read not only for those interested in contemporary China but also for anyone who cares about digital surveillance and dispossession around the globe Emily T Yeh University of Colorado Boulder author of Taming Tibet Landscape Transformation and the Gift of Chinese Development The crisis in Xinjiang has engendered its own crisis of interpretation and action at a time of growing geopolitical rivalry how to condemn the atrocities without supporting hawkish voices particularly among US politicians who seek to Cold War ise the US relationship with Communist China How to critique China for colonialism racism assimilationism extra legal internment and coerced labour when many Western nations are built on a history of those same things Xinjiang Year Zero not only provides non specialists a thorough readable up to date account of events in Xinjiang This much needed book also offers a broader framing of the crisis drawing comparisons to settler colonialism elsewhere and revealing direct connections to global capitalism and to the rise of technological surveillance everywhere James A Millward Georgetown University author of Eurasian Crossroads A History of Xinjiang Stop the 21st Century Holocaust Ian Evans,2019-08-19 An American middle school student Ian Evans wrote this book for supporting Uyghurs and reminding us how important our freedom and independence are Ian visited Uyghur homeland years ago and had deep spiritual connections to Uyghur children there His dream today is to see Uyghur children living in freedom and peace like all American children here Middle Country Grayson Slover,2021 Since 2017 the Chinese Communist Party CCP has instituted a series of brutally repressive policies in its far western Xinjiang Uyghur Autonomous Region also known as East Turkistan These sweeping policies of cultural genocide have targeted the region s Turkic ethnic groups largely Muslim the most prominent of which are the Uyghurs The CCP has forcibly and systematically sterilized Uyghur women constructed the most far reaching and invasive surveillance state in human history and sent upwards of one million Uyghurs and other Turkic peoples to be re educated in concentration camps characterized by one expert as the largest incarceration of an ethno religious minority since the Holocaust In Middle Country Grayson Slover recounts the personal story of his weeklong journey through East Turkistan during the summer of 2019 As he vividly describes his own experiences in East Turkistan and the observations he made while he was there Grayson weaves in historical context and political analysis to create a book that is both an engaging adventure story and an informative look at the contemporary situation in East Turkistan     Struggle by the Pen Ondrej Klime,2015-01 In Struggle by the Pen Ondrej Klime explores the emergence of national consciousness and nationalist ideology of Uyghurs in Xinjiang from c 1900 1949
