Grades K-6

Because every reader is different, we've created six color-coded levels to match each reader with the right book. There are many systems out there, but we've decided to keep it simple with a reading recovery leveling system. This chart is designed to assist teachers in leveling books for reading with some of the most common leveling systems. The chart approximates leveling from reading recovery and is school-level. The reading recovery system is provided for general perspective. Teachers are encouraged to adjust this correlation according to their personal judgment and professional judgment.
