The War Correspondent Greg McLaughlin, 2016-02-20 What is the role of the war reporter today Through interviews with prominent war and foreign correspondents such as John Pilger Robert Fisk Mary Dejevsky and Alex Thomson The War Correspondent delves into the most dangerous form of journalism From Crimea to Vietnam the Falklands to the Gulf and Afghanistan Iraq and the War on Terror the book examines the attractions and risks of war reporting the challenge of objectivity and impartiality in the war zone the danger that journalistic independence is compromised by military control censorship and public relations as well as the commercial and technological pressures of an intensely concentrated competitive news media environment As history and ideology return to the reporting of international conflict Greg McLaughlin asks what will that mean for a new generation of war correspondents attuned not to history or ideology but to the politics of the next conflict

The First Casualty Phillip Knightley, 2004-10-05 The first casualty when war comes is truth said American Senator Hiram Johnson in 1917 In his gripping now classic history of war journalism Phillip Knightley shows just how right Johnson was From William Howard Russell who described the appalling conditions of the Crimean War in the Times of London to the ranks of reporters photographers and cameramen who captured the realities of war in Vietnam The First Casualty tells a fascinating story of heroism and collusion censorship and suppression Since Vietnam Knightley reveals governments have become much more adept at managing the media as highlighted in chapters on the Falklands War the Gulf War and the conflict between NATO and Serbia over Kosovo And in a new chapter on the post 9 11 wars in Afghanistan and Iraq Knightley details even greater degrees of government manipulation and media complicity as evidenced by the embedding of reporters in military units and the uncritical openly patriotic coverage of these conflicts The age of the war correspondent as hero he concludes appears to be over Fully updated The First Casualty remains required reading for anyone concerned about freedom of the press journalistic responsibility and the nature of modern warfare

Home/Fronts Janina Wierzoch, 2020-03-03 In recent years the US led invasions of Afghanistan and Iraq have had an impact on the UK rivalled only by Brexit and the global financial crisis For people at home the wars were ever present in the media yet remained distant and difficult to apprehend Janina Wierzoch offers an analytical survey of British contemporary war narratives in novels drama film and television that seek to make sense of the experience The study shows how the narratives instead of reflecting on the UK's role as invader portray war as invading the British home Home loses its post Cold War sense of permanent peace and is recast as a home front where war once again becomes part of what it means to be us

Inappropriate Conduct Don North, 2013-01-09 I went in behind the lines and emerged as a kind of agent I went in as a reporter and came out a kind of soldier I sometimes wish I had never gone in at all Paul Morton War correspondents have long entered combat zones at great personal risk determined to capture the conflict for those on the home front But during World War II Toronto Star journalist Paul Morton found himself not just reporting the war but fighting his own personal battle in a shocking turn of events that led to disastrous consequences for his career Morton volunteered in 1944 to parachute behind Nazi lines and report on the guerrilla war being waged by Italian partisans But after he spent two months writing a series the British Army changed its battle strategy and ordered stories on the partisans to cease Mortons stories were spiked and he was discredited as a correspondent Morton was subsequently fired by the Toronto Star after they unfairly claimed his reporting was fabricated Eye opening and gripping Inappropriate Conduct shares the dramatic true story of how Morton became the target of a ruthless campaign that shattered his journalistic integrity and his career Journalist Don North captures Mortons experiences from the beginning using Mortons previously unpublished memoir and archival sources to create a seamless powerful narrative that speaks to the tenuous relationship between the truth and propaganda during war

War Reporter Bernard Gray, 1942 The Price Current-grain Reporter Year Book ... , 1922 A New History of War Reporting Kevin Williams, 2019-12-23 This book takes a fresh look at the history of war reporting to understand how new technology new ways of waging war and new media conditions are changing the role and work of today's war correspondent Focussing on the mechanics of war reporting and the logistical and institutional pressures on correspondents the book further examines the role of war propaganda accreditation and news management in shaping the evolution of the specialism Previously neglected conflicts and correspondents are reclaimed and wars considered as key moments in the history of war reporting such as the Crimean War 1854-56 and the Great War 1914-18 are re evaluated The use of objectivity as the yardstick by which to assess the performance of war correspondents is questioned The emphasis is instead placed on war as a messy business which confronts reporters and photographers with conditions that challenge the norms of professional practice References to the demise of the war correspondent have accompanied the growth of the specialism since the days of William Howard Russell the so called father of war reporting This highlights the fragile nature of this sub genre of journalism and emphasises that continuity as much as change characterises the work of the war correspondent A thematically organised historically rich introduction this book is ideal for students of journalism media and
