The Western Construction Of Religion Myths Knowledge And Ideology:

The Western Construction of Religion Daniel Dubuisson,2003-06-18 The Western Construction of Religion not only provides a critical assessment of the whole history of religionas it is understood in the West but offers better ways of constructing the study of this central part of human experience Religion and the Specter of the West Arvind-Pal S. Mandair,2009-10-23 Arguing that intellectual movements such as deconstruction postsecular theory and political theology have different implications for cultures and societies that live with the debilitating effects of past imperialisms Arvind Mandair unsettles the politics of knowledge construction in which the category of religion continues to be central Through a case study of Sikhism he launches an extended critique of religion as a cultural universal At the same time he presents a portrait of how certain aspects of Sikh tradition were reinvented as religion during the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries India s imperial elite subtly recast Sikh tradition as a sui generis religion which robbed its teachings of their political force In turn Sikhs began to define themselves as a nation and a world religion that was separate from but parallel to the rise of the Indian state and global Hinduism Rather than investigate these processes in isolation from Europe Mandair shifts the focus closer to the political history of ideas thereby recovering part of Europe s repressed colonial memory Mandair rethinks the intersection of religion and the secular in discourses such as history of religions postcolonial theory and recent continental philosophy Though seemingly unconnected these discourses are shown to be linked to a philosophy of generalized translation that emerged as a key conceptual matrix in the colonial encounter between India and the West In this riveting study Mandair demonstrates how this philosophy of translation continues to influence the repetitions of religion and identity politics in the lives of South Asians and the way the academy state and media have analyzed such phenomena

Muhammad 'Abduh and His Interlocutors: Conceptualizing Religion in a Globalizing World Ammeke Kateman,2019-01-04 In Mu ammad Abduh and his Interlocutors Conceptualizing Religion in a Globalizing World Ammeke Kateman offers an account of Mu ammad Abduh s Islamic Reformism in a context in which ideas increasingly crossed familiar geographical religious and cultural frontiers Presenting an alternative to the inadequate perspective of Westernization Kateman situates the ideas of Mu ammad Abduh Egypt 1849 1905 on Islam and religion amongst those of his interlocutors within a global intellectual field Ammeke Kateman s approach documents the surprising pluralism of Abduh s interlocutors the diversity in their shared conceptualizations of religion and the creativity of Abduh s own interpretation In this way the conceptualizations of Abduh and his contemporaries also shed light on the diversified global genealogy of the modern concept of religion

Mattering Spiritualities Silvia Battista,David Mason,2025-03-31 Mattering Spiritualities brings together an array of international scholars and practitioners to explore spirituality in embodiment through the lens of performance performative writing and performance studies The book concerns spirituality and takes the body as the site of whatever it is we call spirituality The methodological assumption is that the opposition of body and spirit is a false binary that calls for re examination and revision It stems from the argument that people can deliberately shift their boundaries of perception and knowing through practice technologies and performative techniques that can alter the way in which they perceive the ecologies in which they are embedded This approach understands that careful attention to which bodies are performing in any given scenario is crucial as is a sensitivity to the ramifications of any body s race gender class and biological ability Performance can therefore be regarded as anything through which individuals and collectives experiment with bodies as technologies Each chapter engages with such experiments to explore how bodies experience and relate to other bodies human and other than human but also how by mobilizing bodies and changing relationships between them practitioners can transform people spaces and places objects ecologies large and small and shift the borders of the known Such experiments can also reveal intersectional dynamics within given social political and biological borders offering new perspectives and angles of analysis This collection intends to serve transdisciplinary studies and to support varied learning and teaching environments for undergraduate postgraduate and PhD students

Murphy,2011-04-20 The timely Blackwell Companion to Religion and Violence brings together an international interdisciplinary group of scholars who provide a coherent state of the art overview of the complex relationships between religion and violence This companion tackles one of the most important topics in the field of Religion in the twenty first century pulling together a unique collection of cutting edge work A focused collection of high quality scholarship provides readers with a state of the art account of the latest work in this field The contributors are broad ranging international and interdisciplinary and include historians political scientists religious studies scholars sociologists anthropologists theologians scholars of women s and gender studies and communication

Fabricating Religion Russell T. McCutcheon,2018-09-24 The revised essays collected here four of which are published for the first time continue a longstanding argument made by McCutcheon and others that the study of religion would benefit from self conscious scrutiny of its tools the interests that may drive them and the effects that might follow their use The chapters examine a variety of contemporary sites in the modern field where this thesis can be argued whether involving the anachronistic use of of the category religion when studying the ancient world to current interest in so called critical religion or critical realist approaches Moreover contrary to some past characterizations of such critiques a constructive way forward for the field is once again recommended and at several sites exemplified in detail redescribing not only religion as something ordinary but also our tendency to create the impression of exceptional and thus set apart things places and people Aimed at scholars and students alike the book is an invitation to examine our own scholarly practices and thereby take a more active role in shaping the field in which we carry out our work as scholars of this thing we call religion

Imagine No Religion Carlin A. Barton,Daniel Boyarin,2016-10-03 What do we fail to see when we force other earlier cultures into the Procrustean bed of concepts that organize our contemporary world In Imagine No Religion Carlin A Barton and Daniel Boyarin map the myriad meanings of the Latin and Greek words religio and

thr skeia frequently and reductively mistranslated as religion in order to explore the manifold nuances of their uses within ancient Roman and Greek societies In doing so they reveal how we can conceptualize anew and speak of these cultures without invoking the anachronistic concept of religion From Plautus to Tertullian Herodotus to Josephus Imagine No Religion illuminates cultural complexities otherwise obscured by our modern day categories

Hughes,2007 The formation of any scholarly discourse is contingent upon the creation of a vocabulary and a set of categories responsible for manufacturing the data that it deems significant or not The discovery of raw data the manufacture of theoretical or interpretive frameworks that make sense of such data and subsequent scholarly conventions responsible for its dissemination are always mediated by particular social ideological and political contexts This book documents these contexts in the creation of the discipline known as Islamic Studies and demonstrates how they have been instrumental in shaping how we think about Islam in both the academy and especially post 9 11 in the media This volume argues that knowledge of Islam has never been innocent or about the simple collection of facts but that the interpretive lenses used to study Islam have always been and continue to be caught up with larger forces e g the reform of Judaism Orientalism identity politics of the 1960s 9 11 the fight against terrorism the creation of a liberal Islam Whereas previous work is content to show the nefarious influence of Orientalism in the creation of Islamic data and the formation of an essentialized Islam Situating Islam argues that the opposite approach the construction of an authentic Islam that coincides effortlessly with Western values is equally problematic The work concludes by examining how Islamic data has the potential to help us better understand how we construct and contest religion

European Perceptions of

Islam and America from Saladin to George W. Bush Peter O'Brien,2009-02-13 The study unearths in European writings about chief rivals Islamic civilization between the first Crusade in 1095 and the final Ottoman siege of Vienna in 1683 and the United States of America from independence in 1776 until the present persistent solicitude regarding Europe's capacity to lead the world Intriguingly however this very self doubt prompted the kind of intense introspection which helped in the past to forge seismic progressive reform movements such as the Renaissance Reformation and Scientific Revolution that ultimately propelled Europe past a more inward looking Islam and which today may very well be positioning a rapidly transforming Europe Union to counter the hegemony of a seemingly smug America The study concludes that frail if not low self esteem has played a significant role in the formation of European identity Religion and History David Gary Shaw,2006 International Studies in Philosophy ,2006 Heythrop Journal ,2004 The Cambridge History of Jewish Philosophy Steven M.
