Toolkit College Professors Robert Cipriano:

A Toolkit for College Professors Robert E. Cipriano, Jeffrey L. Buller, 2015-12-15 A Toolkit for College Professors is designed to give new and established faculty members the skills they need in order to do their jobs more effectively. Combining case studies, scenarios, practical advice, and problem-solving activities, this book offers college professors a valuable resource for excelling in the classroom, lab, studio, library, and beyond. From teaching effectively to promoting student success, facilitating collegiality with their peers, conducting research, applying for tenure and promotion, and many other areas relevant to academic life today, A Toolkit for College Professors helps faculty members achieve their goals and avoid common pitfalls along the way.

Best Practices for Faculty Search Committees Jeffrey L. Buller, 2016-12-27 The essential guidebook for effective faculty hiring committees, Best Practices for Faculty Search Committees presents a clear, direct action plan for faculty and administration involved in hiring. Written by a veteran university administrator, this book lays out a step-by-step process for selecting the right candidate for the job. Practical guidance on application review, interviewing, and evaluation walks you through established and effective methods while case studies and examples from a variety of institutions provide insight into real-world implementation. Whether you're serving on a faculty search committee for the first time or simply seeking a more efficient route to the best candidate, this book provides invaluable guidance that can streamline the search and selection process. Tenure track and long-term opportunities don't come about every day, so it's essential for hiring committees to make the correct choice. While the search process may be codified to an extent by your institution, there is still plenty of room for error or misjudgment; this book helps you keep the process on track and moving forward until the best candidate is identified. Develop criteria for efficient and informative application review. Conduct in-depth interviews that provide a clear picture of fit. Evaluate final candidates on the most pertinent points for the job. Most faculty search resources are technical in nature, with little guidance on getting the job done properly and efficiently; best practices tend to be unwritten and frequently verge into habit rather than critically evaluated method. Best Practices for Faculty Search Committees provides clear, concise, concrete guidance for a more efficient, effective, and successful candidate search.

Managing Time and Stress Jeffrey L. Buller, 2018-09-30 The book provides a concise guide to how academic leaders can manage their time more efficiently and thus better cope with the stresses of their position. Rather than focusing on theory or the causes of time and stress pressures for college administrators today, the book focused on field-tested approaches for achieving more of one's priorities and for dealing with the pressures of academic leadership positions. Academic leaders already know why they're running short of time and feeling stressed; they don't want more analysis and theory but rather insights into how they can make things better. The book is designed for use by individual academic leaders, administrative teams in a retreat, leadership workshops or training programs and courses in higher education leadership.

Evaluating Boards and Administrators Jeffrey L. Buller, 2020-11-01 Accrediting agencies and legislatures have become increasingly insistent that governing boards and upper administrators undergo regular evaluation at colleges and universities. Institutions of higher education have a long history of evaluating faculty members and are familiar with best practices for doing so. Offices of human resources include employees with experience in how staff members should be evaluated because these processes are well developed in the corporate world. But how does a college or university effectively evaluate its governing board and who performs that process? How are administrators particularly the chief executive officer and vice presidents evaluated fairly and effectively? Since a majority of institutions are now required to perform these evaluations, they're seeking advice and examples of best practices but there aren't resources available to provide these insights. This book will address that critical need. The target audience is college faculty and administrators, particularly those who need to develop or improve a system for evaluating governing boards or administrators because of accreditation requirements or legislative mandate.

Confronting Today's Issues Chad Prosser, Denise Spirou, Jeffrey L. Buller, 2019-12-10 This book examines some of the most important challenges facing administrators and other professionals in PreK-12 schools today: safety and security, hiring and evaluating members of the faculty and staff, dealing with students' academic and behavioral challenges, assessing student performance, responding to disengaged or overly engaged parents, and handling external pressures from the community. It also explores ideas for how to design the types of school our students will need in the future and cope with the realities of trying to develop these schools in a difficult educational environment. Preferring practical advice over unsupported hypotheses and adopting clear instructive language rather than educational jargon, the authors draw upon their own experience as well as some of the best research currently being conducted in the field of educational leadership. The book is suitable for self-study, workshops, education courses, and in-service programs. The target audience is current and prospective PreK-12 administrators, teachers, student teachers, and staff.

World-Class Fundraising Isn't a Solo Sport Jeffrey L. Buller, Dianne M. Reeves, 2016-12-19 An African proverb says, "If you want to travel fast, travel alone. If you want to travel far, travel together." World-Class Fundraising Isn't a Solo Sport is about how to travel far in the world of academic development. It provides practical, field-tested strategies for building strong academic development teams. Using realistic case studies and innovative tools designed specifically for use in higher education, the book serves as an operations manual for how faculty members, academic administrators, or development officers can best work together to achieve their fundraising goals.

A Toolkit for Department Chairs Jeffrey L. Buller, Robert E. Cipriano, 2015-03-02 A Toolkit for Department Chairs is designed to give academic administrators the skills they need in order to do their jobs more effectively. Combining case studies, scenarios, practical advice, and problem-solving activities, the book offers chairs a valuable resource for negotiating the real-life challenges they face as academic leaders. Many of the case studies and scenarios included in this book have been field tested by the co-authors in over thirty years of administrative training workshops. Current and aspiring department chairs will discover many new tools that they can include in their administrative toolkits from this practical, accessible book.

Department Chairs works well as a personal resource as well as a training manual for leadership programs and textbook for pre and in service education for department chairs Some additional key features of this book include Practicality in that it offers specific strategies to address the many challenges faced by department chairs Adaptability for use as an individual study guide textbook for leadership programs or discussion guide for groups of academic administrators Utility in that it fills a demonstrated need in the field of higher education since 96 97% of current department chairs have received no formal training in their administrative responsibilities Easy of use through short sometimes humorous scenarios and case studies that cause readers to reflect on their own administrative approaches
