Visual Tools Collected Practices And Cases Insights On Implementation:

Visual Tools, 2006      American Book Publishing Record, 2006      Visual Tools Productivity Press, 2005-12-30 Visual tools are an essential part of any lean transformation and understanding correct application of appropriate tools is crucial. This book clearly illustrates how successful organizations such as Boeing and Maytag have implemented visual tools in their operations. It shows both their respective achievements and the challenges they faced. Visual Tools Collected Practices and Cases provides a variety of case studies taken from articles previously published in Lean Manufacturer Advisor, the monthly newsletter by Productivity Press.

Open when, why, to whom? Changing challenges, perspectives and practices in a new research culture Rogério Mugnaini, Shalini Rangaraje Urs, Chris Fradkin, 2023-11-09      Improving argumentation visualization of multi-stakeholder development processes - a prototyping case Riechert, Mathias, 2018-12-17 A shared understanding of development argumentation is crucial for a wide range of development processes such as requirements engineering, change management, eGovernment and eParticipation, public policy and central to prevent the failure of IT and development projects. Computer Supported Argumentation Visualization (CSAV) has been used to model and represent discourse information for about 35 years. Although modelling tools have significantly matured and continue to evolve, the visual representation of existing tools does not scale ideally with increasing model complexity. For large scale argumentation models, existing visualization approaches from argumentation visualization are reported as being too complex for target stakeholders. This prevents them from gaining insights into the development process and may ultimately contribute to the rejection of the development result, causing severe costs for both public and private organizations. In this paper, we employ the design science methodology to incrementally develop two interactive visual representations for argumentation visualization incorporating best practices from information visualization research. The prototypes are implemented and evaluated in the setting of the project Research Core Dataset, a nation wide project involving all major stakeholder groups of the German science system in order to develop harmonized definitions for research information. In our evaluation, both of the visual representations developed are perceived as being much better at providing insights into complex development processes with a high number of stakeholders. Ein geteiltes Verständnis der zugrundeliegenden Argumentation ist für eine Vielzahl von Entwicklungsprozessen zentral, so beispielsweise im Requirements Engineering, Change Management, eGovernment, eParticipation und Public Policy, um den Fehlschlag der Prozessen zu verhindern. Computer Supported Argumentation Visualization (CSAV) wird seit über 35 Jahren genutzt, um Diskurswissen zu modellieren. Obwohl die Modellierungswerkzeuge deutlich reifer geworden sind, skaliert die visuelle Repräsentation bestehender Werkzeuge nicht ideal mit der Modellkomplexität. Mit Um komplexe Argumentationsmodelle abzubilden, wurden existierende Visualisierungsansätze als zu unübersichtlich von der Zielgruppe bewertet. Dadurch wird verhindert, dass sie die Entwicklungsprozesse nachvollziehen können. Dies kann im Extremfall zur Ablehnung des Entwicklungsergebnisses führen.

was mit erheblichen Kosten für öffentliche und private Organisationen verbunden ist. In dem Artikel verwenden wir die Design Science Methodologie um zwei interaktive visuelle Repräsentationen für Argumentationen unter Einbeziehung von Best Practices der Informationsvisualisierungsforschung inkrementell zu entwickeln. Die Prototypen werden im Projekts Kerndatensatz Forschung einem deutschlandweiten Standardisierungsprojekts für Definitionen von Forschungsinformationen evaluiert. Unsere Evaluation zeigt, dass beide entwickelte visuellen Repräsentationen die Kommunikation komplexer Argumentationen an eine hohe Anzahl an Stakeholder deutlich verbessert.

Advancing Research on Teachers' Professional Vision: Implementing novel Technologies, Methods and Theories Christian Kosel, Tina Seidel, Christian Hartmann, Ann-Sophie Grub, 2024-07-25 A classroom full of students can be overwhelming for teachers. It is critical that teachers are able to filter and meaningfully interpret the relevant information in this complex scenario. Much of this filtering and interpretation occurs through selective visual perception. Over the last decade a rapidly growing number of studies in empirical educational research used eye tracking to investigate teachers' selective visual perceptual processes in the classroom. Theoretically, visual attention and perception are often conceptualized as knowledge-based noticing coupled with knowledge-based reasoning about what is visually perceived. Recent eye tracking studies have shown that experienced teachers in particular show improved selective attention of classroom events through faster detection of relevant information and improved monitoring of learning-relevant situations. Researchers agree that a critical driver of selective attention processes is the professional knowledge: declarative, procedural, and metacognitive of experienced teachers, which controls selective perceptual processes in a top-down process. The findings are significant and provide important insights for research on teacher professionalization.
