Too High To Fail Cannabis And The New Green Economic Revolution:

Too High to Fail Doug Fine, 2012-08-02 The first in depth look at the burgeoning legal cannabis industry and how the new green economy is shaping our country The nation's economy is in trouble but there's one cash crop that has the potential to turn it around cannabis also known as marijuana and hemp According to Time the legal medicinal cannabis economy already generates 200 million annually in taxable proceeds from a mere two hundred thousand registered medical users in just fourteen states But thanks to Nixon and the War on Drugs cannabis is still synonymous with heroin on the federal level even though it has won mainstream acceptance nationwide ABC News reports that underground cannabis's 35.8 billion annual revenues already exceed the combined value of corn 23.3 billion and wheat 7.5 billion Considering the economic impact of Prohibition and its repeal Too High to Fail isn't a commune dweller's utopian rant it's an objectively if humorously reported account of how one plant can drastically change the shape of our country culturally politically and economically Too High to Fail covers everything from a brief history of hemp to an insider's perspective on a growing season in Mendocino County where cannabis drives 80 percent of the economy to the tune of 6 billion annually Investigative journalist Doug Fine follows one plant from seed to patient in the first American county to fully legalize and regulate cannabis farming He profiles an issue of critical importance to lawmakers media pundits and ordinary Americans whether or not they inhale It's a wild ride that includes swooping helicopters college tuitions paid with cash cannabis friendly sheriffs and never before gained access to the world of the emerging legitimate taxpaying ganjapreneur

Boyd, Connie Carter, 2014-01-01 Since the late 1990s marijuana grow operations have been identified by media and others as a new and dangerous criminal activity of epidemic proportions With Killer Weed Susan C Boyd and Connie Carter use their analysis of fifteen years of newspaper coverage to show how consensus about the dangerous people and practices associated with marijuana cultivation was created and disseminated by numerous spokespeople including police RCMP and the media in Canada The authors focus on the context of media reports in Canada to show how claims about marijuana cultivation have intensified the perception that this activity poses significant dangers to public safety and thus is an appropriate target for Canada s war on drugs Boyd and Carter carefully show how the media draw on the same spokespeople to tell the same story again and again and how a limited number of messages has led to an expanding anti drug campaign that uses not only police but BC Hydro and local municipalities to crack down on drug production Going beyond the newspapers Killer Weed examines how legal political and civil initiatives that have emerged from the media narrative have troubling consequences for a shrinking Canadian civil society
