Understanding Multimodal Discourses in English Language Teaching Textbooks Christopher A. Smith, 2022-08-11

Textbooks are indispensable components and in some case the cornerstones of the mission of English Language Teaching ELT. However, they are artefacts of a pedagogical culture that rarely echo the concerns of their most prolific consumers: teachers and students. This book offers a useful framework for evaluating ELT textbooks from a critical discourse perspective, one that is based on sound current research but also offers practical guidance to teachers. Building from a foundational understanding of ELT textbooks, the author presents a systematic procedure to critically analyze their multimodal discourse, examine how those discourses are negotiated between teachers and students in class, and measure how those consumers privately value the lessons. The book provides teachers with the tools they need to select and adapt materials based on critical multimodal discourse analysis, where not only the text but the pictures, websites, audio, visual elements too are subjected to a process which can reveal underlying ideologies, assumptions, omissions, and reifications. The triangulated approach demonstrated in a series of vignettes featuring Korean university students and native English speaking instructors can inform textbook choice, instigate change, and inspire lesson re-contextualization to best suit the needs of its primary consumers.

Issues in Materials Development Maryam Azarnoosh, Mitra Zeraatpishe, Akram Faravani, Hamid Reza Kargozari, 2016-03-22. Issues in Materials Development provides readers with theoretical foundations and practical aspects of designing materials for EFL/ESL contexts. It starts with discussing some basic and preliminary principles of materials design, followed by scrutinizing critical issues in materials development in an objective and systematic way. This ranges from considering learners' needs, adopting, selecting, and gradation of materials to the specific focus of the book on developing various types of materials for the four language skills: pronunciation, ESP vocabulary, and computer-assisted language learning materials. Authenticity of materials to be designed and the inclusion of affective factors to develop motivating materials to engage language learners, in addition to features of materials design at a universal level, are other areas to read about. This book finally tries to open new horizons and possible futuristic approaches to improve today's ELT materials.
