Doering, 1981 The 1979 Reserve Force Studies Surveys were designed to provide the Office of the Deputy Assistant Secretary of Defense Reserve Affairs ODASD RA and the Army Reserve Components with data that can support policy formulation and research on reserve force manning problems Since the end of the draft concern about the reserve forces has focused on the continuing declines in Selected Reserve personnel strength particularly in the Army National Guard and Army Reserve where manpower shortfalls are most severe The increased concern about reserve supply has led to the implementation of a range of different Selected Reserve programs in the past two years and additional programs are under discussion However analyses which identify the approach or mix of approaches which may be appropriate for addressing reserve force manning problems are limited Data collected in the 1979 Reserve Force Studies Surveys will make possible analyses which focus on reserve force unit manning problems and the assessment of strategies for strength improvement Author Manual of Seamanship... Great Britain. Admiralty, Great Britain. Admiralty, 1915 1979 Reserve Force Studies Surveys Jennifer Ann Hawes, Rand Corporation, 1981 This document describes a set of interrelated surveys administered to 224 Army National Guard and 217 Army Reserve company sized units The purpose of the 1979 Reserve Force Studies Surveys was to collect data that would allow analyses of Reserve Force unit manning problems and the assessment of strategies for improving reserve strength. Questionnaires were administered to all unit personnel both junior and senior enlisted members and unit commanders. The first three sections of this note describe the overall survey design as well as the procedures used to design and administer the surveys, the model developed for monitoring the data collection and the strategies implemented to increase survey response rates. Section four provides an assessment of the success of the fieldwork procedures. The final section summarizes problems encountered in conducting the survey and includes recommendations for future survey efforts with Reserve Force personnel as well as other military populations. Appendices include copies of a task outline of all steps required to conduct the surveys and letters and notices sent to sample members to encourage survey participation.
