World Report ,2007 Young Consumer Behaviour Ayantunji Gbadamosi,2017-11-22 Although one perspective depicts young consumers as vulnerable and passive in the marketplace system our knowledge of this consumer group will be inadequate if limited to this contention Their roles and relevance in family consumption activities are becoming increasingly profound Available evidence shows that they cannot be ignored in the marketplace dynamics as they consume goods and services in their households and are involved in various other active roles in their household consumption including making decisions where applicable Hence the landscape of young consumer behaviour is changing Young Consumer Behaviour A Research Companion focusses on exploring the behaviour of young consumers as individuals and societal members The chapters address different aspects of consumption activities of children as individuals like motivation involvement perception learning attitude the self and personality Similarly chapters on consumer behaviour in social settings contextualised to young consumers including culture sub culture family and groups are incorporated into the book This book fills a gap in the literature by addressing the dynamics of consumption patterns of this consumer group in relation to various marketing stimuli and different stakeholders It combines eclectic perspectives on the topic and specifically bridges the gap between historical perspectives and contemporary issues Building on the extant literature in the field of marketing and consumer behaviour this book is a compendium of research materials and constitutes an essential reference source on young consumer behaviour issues with both academic and managerial implications

What determines green purchase behavior? Zhongju Liao,Shufeng Xiao ,Siying Long,2024-05-31 Green purchase behavior refers to consumers purchasing green products that are environmentally friendly using fewer resources and causing lower environmental impact and risk As a growing number of people start to recognize the importance of individual responsibility for environmental protection firms are increasingly motivated to develop green products to fit the needs of this green advocacy Despite an emerging number of consumers claiming their preference towards green brands compared to traditional alternatives researchers have found that there is a huge gap between consumers purchase intention and actual behavior which has gained much attention The psychological process of green purchase behavior may be a complicated process influenced by various factors such as consumer values and norms the pros and cons marketed for green products and various other situational factors Scholars are calling for research that explores the psychological decision making process of green purchase behavior from both theoretical and practical perspectives Due to the high pricing of green products the trade off between the price and function of green products may lower consumers satisfaction Thus there is always a gap between green purchase intention and actual purchase behavior What determines consumers actual green purchase behavior Under what conditions will the consumers pay a premium price for green products What prompts consumers to choose green brands over traditional alternatives Will green consumption be a passing trend or a long term consumption habit What influences the frequency of consumers green purchasing Scholars are welcome to share their opinions and findings about green purchase behavior to help explore this research topic We are extremely interested in the determinants of green purchase behavior and the mechanism of facilitating green consumption considering different perspectives Air Force Magazine ,2015 The Michigan Journal ,2002 Black Belt ,2003-03
