Identity-Focused ELA Teaching Richard Beach, Anthony Johnston, Amanda Haertling
Thein, 2015-03-05
Countering the increased standardization of English language arts instruction requires recognizing and fostering students unique identity construction across different social and cultural contexts. Drawing on current sociocultural theories of identity construction this book posits that students construct multiple identities through use of five identity practices adopting alternative perspectives exploring connections across people and texts negotiating identities across social worlds developing agency through critical analysis and reflecting on long term identity trajectories. Identity Focused ELA Teaching features classroom activities teachers can use to put these practices into action in ways that re center implementing the Common Core State Standards case study profiles of students and classrooms from urban suburban and rural schools adopting these practices and descriptions of how teachers both support students with this instructional approach and share their own identity construction experiences with their students. It demonstrates how as students acquire identity focused practices through engagements with literature writing drama and digital texts they gain awareness of the ways exposure to different narratives beliefs and perspectives serves to mediate their own and others identities leading to different ways of being and becoming over time.

Teaching Middle School Writers Laura Robb, 2010
My whole goal with this book was to come at teaching writing from the angle that matters most students perspective. They taught me what I needed to know to make this book live up to their passion for writing. Laura Robb Adolescents have robust and rewarding writing lives outside of school that involve journals emails text messages blogs and an astounding array of genres. Unlike their personal reading lives that teachers frequently tap into their personal writings typically exist under the curricular radar that is until now. While grounded in the common schedule constraints and curriculum demands of middle school Laura Robb's Teaching Middle School Writers offers teachers lessons and routines that are uncommonly attuned to adolescents.
