Definition of Topic Middle and high school teachers note that all too many adolescent students are less than proficient in reading and writing the twin pillars of literacy. Teaching such students to meet today's tougher educational standards can be a challenge. Emphasizing the important connections between comprehension, communication, and learning, this book offers teachers in all content areas a structured approach for enabling students to strengthen their reading and writing competency and thus boast their potential for academic success. Drawing on the author's extensive experience as a teacher and teacher trainer as well as on relevant theory and research, the book presents an arsenal of instructional strategies aimed at improving comprehension and written expression in all types of students. The approach is motivational as well as practical and features extensive tools and techniques for helping students overcome their reading and writing fears. Persist in their practice, build on their success, and finally to share what they've learned. The book features many dozens of teacher tested activities, lessons, and exercises that can be adapted in any classroom and is abundantly illustrated with examples of student work. Lessons involving literary as well as informational texts are included, as are visualization and interpretive exercises aimed at appealing to the less verbally oriented students. The book also provides extensive guidance and tools for helping students improve their vocabulary, grammar, spelling, and other language skills as well as their ability to conduct research and access on line resources. In addition, a special reference section of the book features extensive listings of web based instructional tools and curricular resources for teachers to use in planning lessons, activities, and assignments. This book will serve as an indispensable resource for teachers seeking to build student skills in comprehension, communication, and learning.
