Sucking Salt Meredith Gadsby, 2006 Examines the literature of black Caribbean emigrant and island women including Dorothea Smartt Edwidge Danticat Paule Marshall and others who use the terminology and imagery of sucking salt as an articulation of a New World voice connoting adaptation improvisation and creativity offering a new understanding of diaspora literature and feminism Provided by publisher Sucking Salt Meredith Gadsby, 2006 Examines the literature of black Caribbean emigrant and island women including Dorothea Smartt Edwidge Danticat Paule Marshall and others who use the terminology and imagery of sucking salt as an articulation of a New World voice connoting adaptation improvisation and creativity offering a new understanding of diaspora literature and feminism Provided by publisher Edinburgh Companion to Science Fiction and the Medical Humanities Donna McCormack, Anna McFarlane, Gavin Miller, 2025-03-31 The medical humanities are becoming increasingly important as their first wave is interrogated by a critical approach that aims to uncover the wider possibilities of the field In conversation with this debate this volume explores the ways in which science fiction studies can contribute to such discussions Science fiction challenges techno optimism and offers a non realist avenue for the expression of illness experience Science fiction also estranges its readers from their societies and the medical possibilities inherent in those societies inviting consideration of how medicine may be complicit with or opposed to other structures of power By engaging these concerns this Companion volume offers a unique viewpoint on the power of the future to shape the present African American Review, 2007 Women and Water in Global Fiction Emma Staniland, 2023-01-27 Symbols and tropes of liquidity have long been connected to notions of the feminine and therefore with orthodox constructions of femininity and womanhood Underpinning these ideas is the vital importance of water as life force which has given it a central place in cultural vocabularies worldwide These symbolic economies in turn inform the discourses through which positive or negative associations of women with water come to bear impact on the social positioning of female gendered identities Women and Water in Global Fiction brings together an array of studies of this phenomenon as seen in writing by and about women from around the world The literature explored in this volume works to make visible decode celebrate and challenge the cultural associations made between female gendered identities and all kinds of watery tropes as well as their consequences for key issues connected to women society and the environment The collection investigates the roots of such symbolisms examines how they inform women's place in the socio cultural orders of diverse global cultures and shows how the female authors in question use these tropes in their work as ways of re articulating female identities and their correlative roles Encyclopedia of the African Diaspora Carole Boyce Davies, 2008-07-29 The authoritative source for information on the people places and events of the African Diaspora spanning five continents and five centuries The field of African Diaspora studies is rapidly growing Until now there was no single authoritative source for information on this broad complex discipline Drawing on the work of over 300 scholars this encyclopedia fills that void Now the researcher from high school level up can go to a single reference for information on the historical political economic and cultural relations between people of African descent and the rest of the world community Five hundred years of relocation and dislocation of assimilation and separation have produced a rich tapestry of history and culture into which are woven people places and events This authoritative accessible work picks out the strands of the tapestry telling the story of diverse peoples separated by time and distance but retaining a commonality of origin and experience Organized in A Z sections covering global topics country of origin and destination country the work is designed for easy use by all

The Bloomsbury Handbook to Edwidge Danticat Jana Evans Braziel, Nadège T. Clitandre, 2021-01-28 Edwidge Danticat's prolific body of work has established her as one of the most important voices in 21st century literary culture Across such novels as Breath Eyes Memory Farming the Bones and short story collections such as Krik Krak and most recently Everything Inside essays and writing for children the Haitian American writer has throughout her oeuvre tackled important contemporary themes including racism imperialism anti immigrant politics and sexual violence With chapters written by leading and emerging international scholars this is the most up to date and in depth reference guide to 21st century scholarship on Edwidge Danticat's work The Bloomsbury Handbook to Edwidge Danticat covers such topics as The full range of Danticat's writing from her novels and short stories to essays life writing and writing for children and young adults Major interdisciplinary scholarly perspectives including from establishing fields of literary studies Caribbean Studies Political Science Latin American Studies feminist and gender studies African Diaspora Studies and emerging fields such as Environmental Studies Danticat's literary sources and influences from Haitian authors such as Marie Chauvet Jacques Roumain and Jacques St phen Alexis to African American authors like Zora Neale Hurston Toni Morrison and Caribbean American writers Audre Lorde to Paule Marshall Known and unknown Historical moments in experiences of slavery and imperialism the consequence of internal and external migration and the formation of diasporic communities The book also includes a comprehensive bibliography of Danticat's work and key works of secondary criticism and an interview with the author as well as and essays by Danticat herself

Close Kin and Distant Relatives Susana M. Morris, 2014-02-04 The black family in the United States and the Caribbean often holds contradictory and competing meanings in public discourse on the one hand it is a site of love strength and support on the other hand it is a site of pathology brokenness and dysfunction that has frequently called forth an emphasis on conventional respectability if stability and social approval are to be achieved Looking at the ways in which contemporary African American and black Caribbean women writers conceptualize the black family Susana Morris finds a discernible tradition that challenges the politics of respectability by arguing that it obfuscates the problematic nature of conventional understandings of family and has damaging effects as a survival strategy for blacks The author draws on African American studies black feminist theory cultural studies and women's studies to examine the work of Paule Marshall Jamaica Kincaid Edwidge Danticat and Sapphire showing how their novels engage the connection between respectability and ambivalence These writers advocate instead for a transgressive understanding of affinity and propose an ethic of community support and accountability that calls for mutual affection affirmation loyalty and respect At the core of these transgressive family systems Morris reveals is a connection to African diasporic cultural rites such as dance storytelling and music that help the fictional characters to establish familial connections

CLA Journal ,2014 Writing Imagined Diasporas Joel Kuortti,2007 Joel Kuortti TM s Writing Imagined Diasporas South Asian Women Reshaping North American Identity is a study of diasporic South Asian women writers It argues that the diasporic South Asians are not merely assimilating to their host cultures but they are also actively reshaping them through their own new voices bringing new definitions of identity As diaspora does not emerge as a mere sociological fact but it becomes what it is because it is said to be what it is the writings of imagined diasporas challenge national discourses Diaspora brings to mind various contested ideas and images It can be a positive site for the affirmation of an identity or conversely a negative site of fears of losing that identity Diaspora signals an engagement with a matrix of diversity of cultures languages histories people places times What distinguishes diaspora from some other types of travel is its centripetal dimension It does not only mean that people are dispersed in different places but that they congregate in other places forming new communities In such gatherings new allegiances are forged that supplant earlier commitments New imagined communities arise that not simply substitute old ones but form a hybrid space in between various identifications This book looks into the ways in which diasporic Indian literature handles these issues In the context of diaspora there is an imaginative construction of collective identity in the making That a given diaspora comes to be seen as a community is the result of a process of imagining at the same time creating new marginalities hybridities and dependencies resulting in multiple marginalizations hyphenizations and demands for allegiance The study concentrates on eleven contemporary women writers from the United States and Canada who write on South Asian diasporic experiences The writers are Ramabai Espinet Jhumpa Lahiri Amulya Malladi Sujata Massey Bharati Mukherjee Uma Parameswaran Kirin Narayan Anita Rau Badami
