Designed as an Aid to Teachers in Preparing Sunday School Lessons. IT is hoped that this Manual will meet the needs of the Sunday school teacher. Its purpose is not only to furnish instruction in approved methods of preparing and teaching the lesson, but also to impart the information concerning the Scriptures and the Church which often lies beyond his immediate reach. The various articles contained in it have been reduced to as small a compass as the usefulness of the book will permit, and it can readily be seen that it was no easy task to bring within the stipulated limits many of the subjects treated. Further, each author is responsible only for the matter contained in his own production. The books of reference have been carefully selected from a large number of valuable treatises and as a rule placed in the order of their helpfulness. The studious teacher will find these books useful in giving him that knowledge which the requirement of brevity necessarily excluded from the Manual itself. About the Publisher

Classical Sunday School Donna Baer, 2018-02-21 This Teacher's manual contains the drill books for all six cycles of Classical Sunday School along with a guide for teaching the curriculum. At Classical Sunday School we believe 1. The Bible is a great book. We really mean that. It's filled with heroes, villains, seductresses, world empires, grandeur, grossness, plot twists and an ending that will blow you away. 2. Kids would love to learn what's in the Bible. They would love it so much that they'd actually put effort into mastering it if anybody would respect them enough to teach them. 3. The proven Classical Method is the best way to teach kids the amazing content of the Bible. A little about the Classical Method: The Classical Method divides a child's learning adventure into three stages: grammar, dialectic, and rhetoric, referred to collectively as the Trivium. During the grammar or data stage, a child's mind is like a thirsty sponge absorbing information wherever it can. Kids in this stage memorize easily and are insatiably curious. In the dialectic stage, a child begins to synthesize the data he's accumulated, connecting the dots and trying to understand how all of his stored information fits together. In the rhetoric stage, a young person begins to use his data-laden framework of the world to try to persuade and influence. The Classical Method of education has been the gold standard for millennia, producing the great minds of the Western intellectual tradition. As modern educators have recoiled from the rigors of the Classical Method, modern students have suffered. Clearly, this style of education is built on a foundation of data: names, dates, locations, lists, descriptions. The more data a mind stores, the more dots it can connect, the more persuasive it can become. The broader the base, the taller the building. This curriculum is designed for use in the grammar stage, typically with kids 4-11 or 12 years old. It contains data and lots of it. There are maps, timelines, genealogies, memory passages, lists of kings and covenants, and more. A Sunday School teacher armed with this book and a Bible can prepare his students to become biblically literate. But please remember: we present all this information, not to puff up or to show off. The vast amount of data is introduced so that when our kids reach the rhetoric stage, their sweet minds will have information to massage and assemble. If a kid reaches the rhetoric stage where his mind is longing to put pieces together to make sense of the world and he finds that he's missing lots of pieces he gets frustrated And surly And rude We don't want that now do we Owning a broad base of data equips a child for the daunting task of making sense of the world and eventually making his mark in it Such knowledge also prevents a young person from falling prey to harmful fads and destructive ideologies It's not so easy to dupe a kid who is armed with facts The songs and other resources found on the website might prove helpful in mastering the material For more information on the Classical Method and for additional teaching resources go to StrongHappyFamily.org
