Kahu,2023-11-03 Bringing together cutting edge research from over 50 leading international scholars this forward looking Research Handbook offers theoretical and empirical insights into the student experience in higher education Proceedings of the 2025 2nd International Conference on Urban Planning and Design \(UPD 2025\) Chao Li,Mahalaya Chatterjee,Ali Cheshmehzangi,Tarawut Boonlua,2025-08-04 This is an open access book The 2025 2nd International Conference on Urban Planning and Design UPD 2025 will be held from April 25 27 2025 in Nanjing China The conference aims to provide a platform for scholars professionals and policy makers in the field of urban planning and design around the world to exchange and collaborate in order to address the many challenges facing urban development today As urbanization accelerates the need for sustainable development infrastructure optimization and the creation of livable environments is increasing and UPD 2025 will focus on these core themes including green space planning transportation network design smart city technology applications and the preservation of historic buildings Renowned experts and scholars from around the world will be invited to share their latest research results and best practice cases through keynote speeches oral presentations and paper presentations In addition participants will have the opportunity to learn more about Nanjing a city with deep historical heritage and modern vitality and observe its innovative initiatives in urban planning and design We look forward to discussing with you new concepts and ideas to promote the sustainable development of global cities and the overall enhancement of the human environment We look forward to your active participation The Ecological University Ronald Barnett,2017-10-12 Universities continue to expand bringing considerable debate about their purposes and relationship to the world In The Ecological University Ronald Barnett argues that universities are short of their potential and responsibilities in an ever changing and challenging environment This book centres on the idea that the expansion of higher education has opened new spaces and possibilities The university is interconnected with a number of ecosystems knowledge social institutions persons the economy learning culture and the natural environment These seven ecosystems of the university are all fragile and in order to advance and develop them universities need to engage with each one By looking at matters such as the challenges of learning professional life and research and inquiry this book outlines just what it could mean for higher education institutions to understand and realize themselves as exemplars of the ecological university With bold and original insights and practical principles for development this radical and transformative book is essential reading for university leaders and administrators academics students and all interested in the future of the university The Metrics of Happiness

R. Allan Freeze,2022-08-24 This book provides a comprehensive treatment of how happiness and wellbeing are measured It presents an accessible summary of the philosophy methodology and applicability of the various measurement techniques that have been generated by the leaders of the happiness movement It traces the history of development of the core ideas and clarifies the unexpectedly wide range of techniques that are used The book provides an unbiased assessment of the strengths and weaknesses of each approach and differentiates the contributions that have been made by psychologists economists environmentalists and health scientists It examines applications at a personal scale in the workplace at a societal scale and on the world stage It does so in an easy to read anecdotal writing style that will appeal to a wide range of academic and lay readers who enjoy popularized non fiction that address matters of social concern Urban Infrastructure

Joseph Heathcott,Jonathan Soffer,Rae Zimmerman,2022-10-11 Urban Infrastructure creates space for an encounter between historians humanists and social scientists who seek new methodological approaches to the history of urban infrastructure It draws on recent work across history anthropology science and technology studies geography resilience sustainability and other disciplines to explore the social effects of infrastructure The volume rejects narrow conceptions of infrastructure history as only the history of public works and instead expands the definition to all business enterprises and public bodies that provide the goods and services essential for the day to day lives of most people Essays examine traditional artifacts such as roads highways and waterworks as well as nontraditional topics like regimes of heating and cooling the processing and distribution of food and even the metaphysics of electromagnetic infrastructure Contributors reveal both the material grounding of urban social relations and the social life of material infrastructure In the end they show that infrastructure profoundly reshapes urban life even as residents fight to reshape infrastructure to their own ends Sustainable Consumption and Care

Aurianne Stroud,Laurence Godin,Barbara Smetschka ,Gabriella Spinelli,2025-03-31 Sustainable consumption is an essential element for the transition towards sustainable lifestyles In our daily lives care is intertwined with processes of looking after oneself family households and friends as well as distant others and the community as a whole As such it addresses all planes of human lives From a sustainability perspective care also relates to the living environment and the resources necessary for production and consumption Looking at sustainable consumption through the lens of care offers us conceptual tools to reframe how to safeguard the planet its biodiversity and the people living on it In a classic definition care is summarized as a species activity that includes everything that we do to maintain continue and repair our world so that we can live in it as well as possible Fisher and Tronto 1991 mention that world includes our bodies our selves and our environment all of which we seek to interweave in a complex life sustaining web Care highlights our vulnerability as living beings and the way a complex network of life sustaining relationships holds us responsible to each other Care is thus a significant thread that links together the ecological economic social and political systems we act within with important implications for sustainable consumption and building sustainable societies Scholarship on how care and sustainable practices interact is fragmented but the interest is growing Care originates in feminist scholarship first developed in relation to health In more recent years its uses have been also expanding to environmental and sustainability realms Today the work on sustainable consumption and care can be roughly divided into four categories The first area of work relates to whether ethical or political consumption can allow caring relations to flourish and develop The second area of research is concerned with sustainability in the context of motherhood mostly showing how gender relations and caring activities tend to send sustainability in the background in favor of a focus on health A third and growing body of work pertains to how inconspicuous consumption is intertwined with care activities for example in relation to food or energy consumption Such work also addresses gender and social inequalities in sustainable consumption as well as notions of communities built through consumption practices and caring relations Finally care as a dimension of geographical communities or communities of interest that supports sustainability and resilience is also gaining traction The goal of this Research Topic is to delineate and differentiate the interplay between sustainable consumption and care We are interested in care in the context of sustainable consumption including social economic and ecological sustainability Resource use and material energy and time demand differ widely amongst caring practices We want to identify and explore tensions common ground innovations and key issues in these areas We consider care as a useful concept to imagine and bring about societies oriented towards sustainable wellbeing and to define the pathways and practices necessary to achieve them As we wish to define a new research area this topic aims to discuss the interrelation between care and sustainability by addressing but not limited to the following themes from a variety of perspectives amongst others feminism gender studies and intersectional approaches socio technical systems social practice theories critical theory transformative approaches time use studies socio ecological transformation or Actor Network Theory An ethos of care as a pathway towards more sustainable forms of production and consumption Conceptualizing needs and wellbeing through the lens of care Analyzing caring practices from a perspective of climate change resource use and energy demands Methodological implications of care and an intersectional feminist approach to sustainable consumption Time for care in the unpaid and paid world of work incl commodification and outsourcing of care in the global economy Teleoaffection emotions the body and social norms Agency social and environmental justice inequalities and sustainable wellbeing Care for the community and the public good as a way towards a more sustainable society We are particularly interested in original research methodological and theoretical papers case studies as well as policy and practice reviews Wellbeing Cary L. Cooper,2014 Community Series: Police Trauma, Loss, and Resilience, volume II Konstantinos Papazoglou,Michael David Schlosser ,Katy Kamkar,2024-05-17 Police work increases the risk of psychological work related injuries substantially As a result of repeated exposure to trauma police and first responders have more than twice the risk of developing Posttraumatic Stress Disorder PTSD when compared to the general population We often hear of the impact of PTSD and depression on police officers health and overall functioning including on their work performance Both PTSD and depression are part of Operational Stress Injuries OSI which describe any persistent psychological difficulty that results from operational or service related duties Next to depression and PTSD OSI includes anxiety disorders substance use disorders injury and pain sleep disturbances and other conditions that may interfere with daily functioning Importantly factors frequently observed in police officers such as burnout moral injury and compassion fatigue present additional mental health issues further contribute to the maintenance and exacerbation of their psychological symptomatology thereby prolonging recovery and contributing to the chronicity of disability suffering and pain Disease

Control Priorities, Third Edition (Volume 8) Donald A. P. Bundy,Nilanthi de Silva,Susan Horton,Dean T. Jamison,2017-11-20 More children born today will survive to adulthood than at any time in history It is now time to emphasize health and development in middle childhood and adolescence developmental phases that are critical to health in adulthood and the next generation Child and Adolescent Health and Development explores the benefits that accrue from sustained and targeted interventions across the first two decades of life The volume outlines the investment case for effective costed and scalable interventions for low resource settings emphasizing the cross sectoral role of education This evidence base can guide policy makers in prioritizing actions to promote survival health cognition and physical growth throughout childhood and adolescence Innovative Computing Jason C. Hung,Jia-Wei Chang,Yan Pei,Wei-Chen Wu,2022-01-04 This book comprises select proceedings of the 4th International Conference on Innovative Computing IC 2021 focusing on cutting edge research carried out in the areas of information technology science and engineering Some of the themes covered in this book are cloud communications and networking high performance computing architecture for secure and interactive IoT satellite communication wearable network and system infrastructure management etc The essays are written by leading international experts making it a valuable resource for researchers and practicing engineers alike Techniques of Hearing Michael Schillmeier,Robert Stock,Beate Ochsner,2022-10-21 Hearing health and technologies are entangled in multi faceted ways This edited volume addresses this complex relationship by arguing that modern hearing was and is increasingly linked to and mediated by technological innovations By providing a set of original interdisciplinary investigations that shed new light on the history theory and practices of hearing techniques it is able to explore the heterogeneous entanglements of sound hearing practices technologies and health issues As the first book to bring together historians scholars from media studies social sciences cultural studies acoustics and neuroscientists the volume discusses modern technologies and their decisive impact on how normal hearing enhanced and smart hearing as well as hearing impairment have been configured It brings both new insights into the histories of hearing technologies as well as allowing us to better understand how enabling hearing technologies have currently been unfolding an increasingly hybrid ecology engaging smart hearing devices and offering stress free hearing and acoustic well being in novel auditory environments The volume will be of interest to all scholars and students of disability studies sound studies sociology of health and illness medical history health and society as well as those interested in the practices and techniques of self monitored and smart hearing
