The Fantastic Made Visible Matthew Wilhelm Kapell, Ace G. Pilkington, 2015-05-01 Fantasy and science fiction began in print and from the first films to the latest blockbusters print stories have provided the inspirations the ideas and in some cases the detailed blueprints Adaption Studies has long been an area of intense debate in literature and film studies but no single work has ever approached fantasy and science fiction texts as unique and important areas of inquiry by themselves The Fantastic Made Visible with 16 fresh essays is the first book to do exactly that From the earliest adaptations of Jules Verne Robert A Heinlein and Shakespeare to recent films based on The Hobbit Planet of the Apes and The Hunger Games this book offers a wide range of critical approaches and films from around the world

The Chatter of the Visible Patrizia C. McBride, 2016-04-06 The Chatter of the Visible examines the paradoxical narrative features of the photomontage aesthetics of artists associated with Dada Constructivism and the New Objectivity While montage strategies have commonly been associated with the purposeful interruption of and challenge to narrative consistency and continuity McBride offers an historicized reappraisal of 1920s and 1930s German photomontage work to show that its peculiar mimicry was less a rejection of narrative and more an extension or permutation of it a means for thinking in narrative textures exceeding constraints imposed by flat print media especially the novel and other literary genres McBride s contribution to the conversation around Weimar era montage is in her situation of the form of the work as a discursive practice in its own right which affords humans a new way to negotiate temporality as a particular mode of thinking that productively relates the particular to the universal or as a culturally specific form of cognition

In/Visible Subjects Gero Guttzeit, 2025-10-28 In

Visible Subjects explores the cultural fascination with invisible characters in literature. While the concept of social invisibility is common in contemporary political discourse there exists no comprehensive analysis of the history of the cultural metaphor of invisibility. This book addresses this gap by tracing the literary evolution of invisibility in narratives from the eighteenth century to the present. The monograph examines literal and metaphorical invisibility in terms of both content and form offering exemplary readings of literary texts by eighteenth century women novelists Eliza Haywood and Susanna Rowson, Romantic poets Anna Letitia Barbauld and John Keats, nineteenth century writers of fantasy and science fiction including James Forbes, Dalton, Fitz James O'Brien and H G Wells, early twentieth century authors such as G K Chesterton, Virginia Woolf and Ralph Ellison and contemporary writers China Miéville and Jennifer Egan. In Visible Subjects aims to establish a new literary foundation for the emerging field of invisibility studies. It is of interest to scholars in literary and cultural studies working on narrative literary character subjectivity and identity.

Nanocomposites for Visible Light-induced

Photocatalysis Mohammad Mansoob Khan, Debabrata Pradhan, Youngku Sohn, 2017-09-07. This book details the chemistry of visible light induced photocatalysis using different classes of nanocomposites. Starting with a general introduction and explanation of basic principles and mechanisms of visible light induced photocatalysis in the first two chapters not omitting a plaidoyer for furthering research and development in this promising field the following chapters detail the different types and classes of nanocomposites currently used in light induced photocatalytic applications including e.g. metal and mixed metal oxide nanoparticles and composites, nanoporous materials, polymeric and carbon based nanocomposites. They explain the characteristics and importance of the different types of nanocomposites as well as their synthesis and fabrication. In the end of the book an outlook on the unique applications of novel nanocomposites is offered for example in water treatment and disinfection and removal of pollutants from wastewater, self cleaning window panes based on photoactive materials and many more. The book also addresses the challenges in present photocatalytic research and therefore is a must read for everybody interested in the developing field of nanocomposites and visible light induced photocatalysis.

The Literary Digest International Book Review, 1926 The Literary Digest International Book Review Clifford Smyth, 1925 Social Learning Thomas R. Zentall, B. G. Galef, Jr., 2013-12-16. First published in 1988. During the past decade there has been a marked increase in the number of North American and European laboratories engaged in the study of social learning. As a consequence evidence is rapidly accumulating that in animals as in humans social interaction plays an important role in facilitating development of adaptive patterns of behavior. Experimenters are isolated both by the phenomena they study and by the species with which they work. The process of creating a coherent field out of the diversity of current social learning research is likely to be both long and difficult. It is the authors hope that the present volume may prove a useful first step in bringing order to a diverse field.

Feminism and the Politics of Literary Reputation Charlotte Templin, 1995. Soon after its publication in 1973 Fear of Flying brought Erica Jong immense popular success and media fame. Alternately pegged sassy and vulgar Jong's novel embraced the politics of the women's liberation movement and challenged the definition of female sexuality. Yet today more than twenty years and several books later literary reputation continues for the most part to elude Jong. Typecast by her adversaries as a media seeking sensationalist Erica Jong has been unfairly side stepped by academia. Charlotte Templin contends In this carefully researched study augmented by personal interviews with Jong. Templin assembles and analyzes the medley of responses to Jong's books by reviewers critics writers academics and the media by liberals conservatives and feminists. She examines the diverse opinions on the merit and relevance to contemporary life of Fear of Flying the invocation of a high culture low culture dichotomy to discredit How to Save Your Own Life the anatomy of literary success with Fanny Jong's reception in a postfeminist age and the trivialization of Jong's works that is inevitable with mass media exposure. Templin also shows how antagonistic reviewers tend to identify Jong with her fictitious characters a practice more common when the author is a woman and judge her to be guilty of the sin of not being a proper woman. In turn she shows how reviewers reveal something of their own values and ideological biases in their critiques and how literary reputations are built destroyed and altered over time. The first book to make a detailed examination of the reputation of a woman writer Feminism and the Politics of Literary Reputation provides an excellent case study for the literary reception of women writers within a broad cultural context. Templin's analysis offers valuable insight into the reception of women writers especially commercially successful women writers and dramatically illustrates the relation of literary reputation to popular appeal and cultural mores.
