Introducing Sociology Using the Stuff of Everyday Life Josee Johnston,Kate Cairns,Shyon Baumann,2025-10-03 The challenges of teaching a successful introductory sociology course today demand materials very different from the norm It is a question of making the practice of sociological thinking meaningful rigorous and relevant to today's world of undergraduates This comparatively concise highly visual and engaging book offers a refreshingly new way forward to reach students using one of the most powerful tools in a sociologist's teaching arsenal the familiar stuff in students everyday lives throughout the world the jeans they wear to class the coffee they drink each morning or the phones their professors tell them to put away during lectures A focus on consumer culture seeing the strange in the familiar is not only interesting for students it is also the authors suggest pedagogically superior to more traditional approaches By engaging students through their stuff this book moves beyond teaching about sociology to helping instructors teach the practice of sociological thinking It moves beyond describing what sociology is so that students can practice what sociological thinking can do This pedagogy also posits a relationship between teacher and learner that is bi directional Many students feel a sense of authority in various areas of consumer culture and they often enjoy sharing their knowledge with fellow students and with their instructor. Opening up the sociology classroom to discussion of these topics validates students expertise on their own life worlds. Teachers in turn gain insight from the goods services and cultural expectations that shape students lives. While innovative the book has been carefully crafted to make it as useful and flexible as possible for instructors aiming to build core sociological foundations in a single semester. A map on pages xix xx identifies core sociological concepts covered so that a traditional syllabus as well as individual lectures can easily be maintained. Theory method and active learning exercises in every chapter constantly encourage the sociological imagination as well as the doing of sociology. This new edition is thoroughly revised and updated incorporating the latest research around material, sociology, culture and object oriented studies. New teaching materials and illustrations are included. Online resources to support teaching and learning include Videos, flashcards, quizzes and further reading. Instructor's manual, PowerPoints and test bank.

Hacking the Human Mind Richard Shotton, Michael Aaron Flicker, 2025-09-30. A book for the ages. Rory Sutherland. Author Alchemy. How did the world's best brands get so big? They had more than great products, they hacked the human mind. This book reveals their secrets. Richard Shotton. The Choice Factory. The Illusion of Choice and 9x CEO. Michael Aaron Flicker. Take a look at the behavioural science underpinning the success of 17 leading brands including Apple, Dyson, Red Bull and Starbucks. What is it about Amazon that pulls us back again and again? How does a two minute wait make Guinness taste better? Why do we pay more for water than we know it's worth? The answers are here. And it's not just theory. Hacking the Human Mind is a practical guide filled with techniques for you to try today. So you too can make your brand the one people reach for without them ever really knowing why.

The Colombo Bay Richard Pollak, 2013-09-10. In the face of killer storms, fires, piracy and terrorism, container ships the length of city blocks and more than a dozen stories high carry 90 percent of the world's trade. This is an account of one ship's voyage and of the sailors who daily risk their lives to deliver six million containers a year to United States ports alone. Inside these twenty foot and forty foot steel boxes are the thousands of imports from chinos and Game Boys to garlic and frozen shrimp without which North America's consumer society would collapse. To explore this little known and dangerous universe of modern seafaring, Richard Pollak joined the Colombo Bay in Hong Kong and over the next five weeks sailed with her and her 3 500 containers across the South China Sea, the Indian Ocean, the Mediterranean and the Atlantic. En route this mammoth vessel called at Singapore and Colombo, passed through the Suez Canal, toll 250 000, then put in at Malta and Halifax before tangling with Hurricane Karen on the two day run to New York. Here is the story of the ship's unheralded twenty four man company of the unflappable British captain Peter Davies, a veteran of four decades at sea, of Federico Castrojas who like the rest of the hard working Filipino crew must daily confront the loneliness of being away from his family for nine months at a stretch, of Simon Westall the twenty one year old third mate who reveals what it is like to be gay in the broad shouldered world of the merchant service. It is a world where pirates in the Malacca Strait sneak up behind ships at night in fast power boats then clamber aboard and either rob the unarmed sailors at gunpoint and escape into the dark or throw the crew into the sea and hijack the ship plundering her cargo and sometimes repainting her and setting out to do business under another name and flag It is a world where families desperate to get to the United States or Europe pay thousands of dollars to the Chinese Snakeheads and other criminal gangs who secrete these wretched migrants in stifling containers after a week or more at sea these stowaways arrive in the Promised Land either starving or dead Pollak sailed on September 13 2001 into a changed world on one of 7 000 container ships whose millions of uninspected boxes suddenly had become potential Trojan horses in which terrorists could transport weapons of mass destruction into the heart of the United States Throughout his riveting narrative Pollak interweaves the insights of Herman Melville and Joseph Conrad whose masterful portrayals of seafaring make the voyage of the Colombo Bay a dramatic reminder of what a hard and rarely reported life merchant seamen have always led out on the unhooped oceans of this planet
