Reimbursement of Mental Health Services in Primary Care Settings Donna Mauch, 2011-04 In 2005-06 a study identified the barriers to and solutions for RMHS. This study was divided into two parts. The first part is a White Paper background report which identifies the barriers to successful provision of RMHS. The second part convened an Expert Forum who reviewed the White Paper and suggested actions to reduce those barriers. This Final Report incorporates their deliberations and addresses the following: Describes the purpose and rationale of the project. Outlines the project's tasks. Details findings from the White Paper. Summarizes the June 2006 Expert Forum discussion and Provides suggested actions to the Federal government on steps to overcome existing or perceived barriers to RMHS. Illustrations. This is a print on demand report. Reimbursement of Mental Health Services in Primary Care Settings U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, 2019-11-23

Implementing these practical and largely achievable suggestions will improve access to timely and targeted mental health services in primary care settings. Program and clinical experts agree that the early prevention and treatment of mental disorders will result in decreases in individual suffering, family burden, and medical costs. This project provided an important opportunity to review policy and service delivery change mechanisms aimed at improving the reimbursement of mental health services in primary care settings. By using knowledge from a variety of individuals and settings and combining empirical research with qualitative interviews and the Expert Forum proceedings, this project identified areas where Federal agencies, states, provider organizations, and commissioner associations can clarify, collaborate, educate, and provide support to improve the reimbursement of and access to mental health services in primary care settings.
