An Integrated Assessment of China's Ecological Restoration Programs Runsheng Yin,2009-07-14 China has been undertaking unprecedented ecological restoration efforts to deal with its problems of soil erosion flooding dust storms and habitat loss

While there have been studies of these efforts questions remain concerning whether they have been effectively implemented what their induced socioeconomic and ecological impacts are and how their performance can be improved Tackling these important questions in an integrated manner An Integrated Assessment of China s Ecological Restoration Programs is extraordinary for its broad coverage and methodological rigor It provides a substantial improvement over the conventional approach of simply reporting projects undertaken and accepting uncritically the government assessment and thus fills an important knowledge gap of the restoration efforts being implemented upon a variety of ecosystems in China

engineering approaches to ecosystem management exploring the history benefits and problems of large dams It then explores diverse ecosystem based approaches to management of human interactions with the water cycle concluding that a synthesis of approaches is needed in future The book also addresses political economic and legal dimensions of water management Featuring case studies from China India and South Africa this insightful new book argues that there are more appropriate physical and social technologies that can help to sustainably provide access to clean water for all
