The Action Research Planner Stephen Kemmis,Robin McTaggart,Rhonda Nixon,2013-11-12 A fully updated and reworked version of the classic book by Stephen Kemmis and Robin McTaggart now joined by Rhonda Nixon The Action Research Planner is a detailed guide to developing and conducting a critical participatory action research project The authors outline new views on participation based on Jürgen Habermas's notion of a public sphere practice as shaped by practice architectures and research as research within practice traditions They provide five extended examples of critical participatory action research studies The book includes a range of resources for people planning a critical participatory research initiative providing guidance on how to establish an action research group and identify a shared concern research ethics principles of procedure for action researchers protocols for collaborative work keeping a journal gathering evidence reporting and choosing academic partners Unlike earlier editions The Action Research Planner focuses specifically on critical participatory action research which occupies a particular critical niche in the action research family The Action Research Planner is an essential guide to planning and undertaking this type of research

Reviewing Qualitative Research in the Social Sciences Audrey A. Trainor, Elizabeth Graue, 2013-03-05 Foundational characteristics of qualitative research include flexibility variation in application critique and innovation all of which derive from its subjective roots in interpretivism and constructivism While the scholars who design qualitative research projects envision these qualities as strengths such a breadth of practices and the assumptions that undergird them may present challenges during the peer review process As a result those who review and consume qualitative research often have important and difficult to answer questions about the project's design strategies tools and analysis with few guidelines for gauging the merit of the work The mission of this book is to provide a useful guide for researchers reviewers and consumers who are charged with judging the quality of qualitative studies In order to embrace the challenges and controversies that accompany this goal the editors have solicited experts representing multiple disciplines and methods of qualitative inquiry Their contributions represent the rich diversity in the field while simultaneously producing a pragmatic and useful guide While it is neither possible nor desirable to compartmentalize qualitative approaches and issues into neatly organized categories the construct of method has been chosen as a common organizing device The introductory chapter explains the need for such a book and underscores the foundational strengths of qualitative research flexibility variation critique and innovation The remaining chapters review the principal approaches to qualitative research with care taken not to standardize rigidly define or oversimplify any approach For ease of use all methodological chapters are organized around the following elements of inquiry which reviewers tend to examine definition sampling data collection data analysis representation and congruency

Participatory Research in Palliative Care Jo Hockley, Katherine Froggatt, Katharina Heimerl, 2012-12-06 Participatory research is a relatively new method of researching practice especially within palliative care It differs from other methodologies in that there is an expectation of action within the research process The values that underpin participatory research are collaboration empowerment and reflection In the current climate of collaboration and working with people in healthcare participatory research methods are gaining increasing interest when there is a desire to bring about change Organisational change is becoming an important focus as we look at ways of not only reducing costs but at the same time improving quality of care While palliative care puts the patient and family at the centre Participatory Research in Palliative Care discusses a new research methodology that puts practitioners at the heart of the research process as collaborators who work together with researchers to resolve problems in practice Divided into three sections it provides theoretical groundings of action research a greater focus on exemplars from studies within palliative care and discusses prominent issues when using such a methodology All three sections are illustrated by an action research study undertaken by the author within a palliative care setting Participatory Research in Palliative Care is written by international multi disciplinary authors who explore a collaborative approach to embark on research It will appeal to health and social care professionals academics undertaking research within palliative care and the management of organisations where people with end of life care needs are cared for including long term care homes International Perspectives on Teacher Research S. Borg,H.

Sanchez,2015-03-04 Teacher research is recognized in ELT and education more generally as a powerful transformative strategy for teacher development and school improvement This volume provides original insights into this issue by focusing on the processes involved in becoming and being a teacher researcher The SAGE Handbook of Qualitative Research in Psychology Carla Willig,Wendy Stainton-Rogers,2008 This handbook covers the qualitative methods used in psychology combining how to do it summaries with examination of historical and theoretical foundations Examples from recent research are used to illustrate how each method has been applied the data analysed and the insights gained Qualitative Methods in Tourism Research Wendy Hillman,Kylie Radel,2018-01-05 This volume seeks to expose and illustrate new approaches and thinking in qualitative methods that are being developed and implemented in tourism research The contributions bring together various qualitative methods and approaches while also providing suggestions for the juxtaposition of qualitative and quantitative methods in mixed methods research The book has been written with a cross disciplinary approach which provides an insight into the art of research development from business sociology and tourism perspectives The chapters provide readers with a context and practical application examples for each method They present a distinctive opportunity for social researchers from a range of disciplines in particular tourism to examine how to adapt the wide variety of qualitative approaches to their particular research needs Mending the World? Niclas Blader,Kristina Helgesson Kjellin,2017-06-16

Religion has played a major role in history affecting the course of events and influencing individuals Today one frequently hears the expression the return of religion but opinions differ as to how this return is to be understood It is clear that modernity and postmodernity have not meant that religion is dead or relegated to society s backyards Religion is still of vital importance for many people It has to some extent changed shape but has not lost its legitimacy and attractiveness to broad groups Religion is public visible and has a sought for voice but it is also wrestling with extremism ignorance and preconceptions Just like ideologies religions are capable of activating diametrically opposite traits in humans It is this dual tension that is implicit in the question mark in this book s title Mending the World This book s aim is to help explore whether how and in what ways religion church and theology can contribute constructively to the future of a global society In thirty one chapters researchers from around the world address the relation between religion and society BRAC University Journal ,2006 Fundamentals of Action Research: Reviews, critiques, and new directions Bill Cooke,Julie Wolfram

action research in Catholic schools through the specific lens of community and spirituality including original research from Catholic school leaders Provided by publisher International Journal of Action Research ,2009 Fundamentals of Action Research: Social change applications, the practitioners, and action research knowledge Bill Cooke,Julie Wolfram Cox,2005 Collaborative Research in Organizations Niclas Adler,A. B. (Rami) Shani,Alexander Styhre,2004 Adler Shani and Styhre with contributions from many of the management researchers associated with the FENIX experiment have documented the essence of collaborative research in organizations The eighteen chapters in the book provide a window into the complexity of designing and managing collaborative research efforts in organizations and present an approach that is worth reading about reflecting upon and exploring further At Volvo Cars this collaboration has been an added value to our practice From the foreword by Hans Olov Olsson CEO and President Volvo Car Corporation Through collaboration we can deliver research outcomes not possible from solo or single team scholarship The experiments in collaborative research chronicled in this book are timely and important From the foreword by Andrew M Pettigrew Professor of Strategy and Organization Warwick Business school Associate Dean Warwick University U K This book responds in a timely manner to a most important subject area The editors have a proven track record and are well recognized in their fields around the world The cases exhibit broad coverage and the depth is quite impressive Kenneth L Murrell University of West Florida Collaborative Research in Organizations Foundations for Learning Change and Theoretical Development leverages and sustains the role of management research while increasing the theoretical development of complex organizational and management issues The true partnership ideal and emergent inquiry process make collaborative research complex and difficult to organize lead and manage This book addresses these needs by revisiting traditional research ideals Collaborative Research in Organizations is organized in four sections Part I Framing the Challenge provides grounding in the historical context the emergent need and the challenges of working in the borderland between academy and industry Part II Lenses and Mechanisms presents a range of collaborative research approaches concepts frameworks and mechanisms positioning collaborative research as something other than one of many qualitative approaches Part III Illustrations are intended to provide specific examples of collaborative research projects in a variety of companies and industries that show how collaborative research is realized Most of the illustrations are based on collaborations between FENIX Program researchers at the Stockholm School of Economics and Chalmers University of Technology and leading Swedish organizations leveraging the Scandinavia tradition of boundary spanning learning endeavours Part IV Lessons highlights the common denominators between the different studies addresses some of the critiques of collaborative research and identifies critical challenges for future inquiry Creating an Online Community of Action Researchers Josef Huber (Educator),Branko Bogнар,Pascale Mompoin-Gaillard,2017 The Council of Europe s Pestalozzi Programme promotes the message of the Organisation and its values human rights democracy and the rule of law in the practice of education formal non formal and informal and aims to support member states in including these ideals in their education systems Basing its approach to professional development firmly on social constructivism and social constructionism it invests in educators who create new practices This book represents an example of a transformational enterprise in which several practitioners from different parts of Europe gather in the Pestalozzi Programme community of practice and set out to learn how to become action researchers While many books focus on how to carry this out this publication is action research in action In addition it features examples of how participants can use online social platforms and affordable web applications in their collaboration and learning practices
