SUMMARY

Check out my 70-page guide, "Strategies for a Successful Job Search," to complete your resume with the best results! This Profile Summary section showcases your most impressive experience, skills, and achievements (read more on page 39). In the first sentence, quickly market yourself with your highest job title, including main responsibilities and years of experience. Then, tell them about your top skills and professional accomplishments and quantify them with numbers to prove your value.

PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

POSITION TITLE HERE

Company | City, State | Date - Date

- Tailor your resume using keywords from the job posting (page 50). You don't need to tailor your resume to every single job posting. But you need to create different resume versions if you are applying to different types of roles.
- You need to show that you would go above and beyond to create the most value for the company (page 50).
- Write about your professional achievements instead of boring and generic daily tasks (page 50).

POSITION TITLE HERE

Company | City, State | Date - Date

- To showcase your performance, your bullets should begin with an action verb (page 23). For example, write "Built innovative microservices and web-services" instead of "Responsible for building innovative microservices..."
- Prove your accomplishments with numbers because it's better to show than to tell (page 29).
- List the most impressive information on the top half of the first page.
- It's a good idea to order bullets, skills, and qualifications based on their value or relevance to the job description.

POSITION TITLE HERE

Company | City, State | Date - Date

- For a formal tone, eliminate pronouns from your resume altogether. Read more about general rules for resume content on page 36 and more quick tips on page 42 for optimizing the Work Experience section.
- List your degrees from the highest to the lowest level (more tips for the Education section on page 40).
- More tips for the Contact Information section can be found on page 37.
