

We are in the Course of Human events, it becomes necessary for our people to dissolve the political bands which have connected them with another, and to assume among the powers of the earth, the separate and equal station to which the Laws of Nature and of Nature's God entitle them; a decent respect to the opinions of mankind requires that they should declare the causes which impel them to the separation.

We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty, and the pursuit of Happiness. That to secure these rights, God has endowed among them, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed. That whenever any Form of Govt becomes destructive of these ends, it is the Right of the People to alter or to abolish it, and to institute new Govt, having its Foundation on such principles and supporting its powers in such form, as to them shall seem most likely to effect their Safety and Happiness. Profound, indeed, will always that God's long-established should not be tampered with for light and transient reasons, and accordingly all experience hath shown, that mankind are more disposed to suffer, while evils are sufferable, than to right themselves by abolishing the forms to which they are accustomed. But when a long train of abuses and usurpations, pursuing unceasingly the same Object, evinces a design to reduce them under absolute Despotism, it is their right, it is their duty, to throw off such Govt, and to provide new Guards for their future security. Such has been the patient sufferance of these Colonies, and such an unfeigned cordiality which resistless them to alter their former Systems of Govt. The history of the present King of Great Britain is a history of repeated injuries and usurpations, of having obstructed the execution of all justice in this country over these States. To prove this, let Facts be submitted to a candid world.

- He has refused his Assent to Laws, the most wholesome and necessary for the public good;
- He has forbidden his Subjects to pass Laws of immediate and pressing importance, unless suspended in their operation till his Assent should be obtained, and when so suspended, he has wholly neglected to attend to them;
- He has refused to pass other Laws for the accommodation of large districts of people, which have people would relinquish the right of Representation in the Legislature, a right inseparable to them and inestimable to posterity only;

He has called together legislative bodies at places unusual, unaccustomed, and distant from the Depository of their public Records, for the sole purpose of delaying their compliance with his measures;

He has dissolved Representative Houses repeatedly, for opposing with manly firmness his measures on the rights of the people;

He has refused for a long time, after such dissolutions, to cause others to be elected, whereby the Legislative powers, incapable of Annihilation, being vested in the People of these States, the Right remains in the
