Time and Narrative, Volume 3 Paul Ricoeur, 2024-05-31 In the first two volumes of this work Paul Ricoeur examined the relations between time and narrative in historical writing fiction and theories of literature This final volume a comprehensive reexamination and synthesis of the ideas developed in volumes 1 and 2 stands as Ricoeur s most complete and satisfying presentation of his own philosophy Ricoeur s aim here is to explicate as fully as possible the hypothesis that has governed his inquiry namely that the effort of thinking at work in every narrative configuration is completed in a refiguration of temporal experience To this end he sets himself the central task of determining how far a poetics of narrative can be said to resolve the aporias the doubtful or problematic elements of time Chief among these aporias are the conflicts between the phenomenological sense of time that experienced or lived by the individual and the cosmological sense that described by history and physics on the one hand and the oneness or unitary nature of time on the other In conclusion Ricoeur reflects upon the inscrutability of time itself and attempts to discern the limits of his own examination of narrative discourse As in his previous works Ricoeur labors as an incomparable mediator of often estranged philosophical approaches always in a manner that compromises neither rigor nor creativity Mark Kline Taylor Christian Century In the midst of two opposing contemporary options either to flee into ever more precious readings or to retreat into ever more safe readings Ricoeur s work offers an alternative option that is critical wide ranging and conducive to new applications Mary Gerhart Journal of Religion

In this short polemical book Lyndsey Stonebridge shows how the history of human rights owes much to the creative imagining of writers Yet she argues it is not enough to claim that literature is the empathetic wing of the human rights movement At a time when human rights are so blatantly under attack the writers we need how are the political truth-tellers the bold callers out of easy sympathy and comfortable platitudes New Jazz Conceptions Roger Fagge, Nicolas Pillai, 2017-06-26 New Jazz Conceptions History Theory Practice is an edited collection that captures the cutting edge of British jazz studies in the early twenty first century highlighting the developing methodologies and growing interdisciplinary nature of the field In particular the collection breaks down barriers previously maintained between jazz historians theorists and practitioners with an emphasis on interrogating binaries of national local and professional amateur Each of these essays questions popular narratives of jazz casting fresh light on the cultural processes and economic circumstances which create the music Subjects covered include Duke Ellington's relationship with the BBC the impact of social media on jazz a new view of the ban on visiting jazz musicians in interwar Britain a study of Dave Brubeck as a transitional figure in the pages of Melody Maker and BBC2's Jazz 625 the issue of liveness in Columbia's Ellington at Newport album a musician and promoter's views of the relationship with audiences a reflection on Philip Larkin Kingsley Amis and Eric Hobsbawm as jazz critics a musician's perspective on the oral and generational tradition of jazz in a British context and a meditation on Alan Lomax's Mr Jelly Roll and what it tells us about cultural memory and historical narratives of jazz Supplementary Volume Aristotelian Society (Great Britain), 1996 Outside, America Hikaru Fujii, 2013-04-25 The idea of the outside as a space of freedom has always been central in the literature of the United States This concept still remains active in contemporary American fiction however its function is being significantly changed Outside America argues that among contemporary American novelists a shift of focus to the temporal dimension is taking place No longer a spatial movement the quest for the outside now seeks to reach the idea of time as a force of difference à la Deleuze by which the current subjectivity is transformed In other words the concept is taking a temporal turn Discussing eight novelists including Don DeLillo Richard Powers Paul Theroux and Annie Proulx each of whose works describe forces of given identities masculine identity historical temporality and power etc which block quests for the outside Fujii shows how the outside in these texts ceases to be a spatial idea With due attention to critical and social contexts the book aims to reveal a profound shift in contemporary American fiction

Raynova, Paul Ricoeur, 2009 This volume presents three interviews with Paul Ricoeur with the purpose to scrutinize the complex philosophical evolution of his thought The main question which arises therefore and on which are centered the two volumes is how to think together the difference between the issues of Ricoeur's first works and those of his later ones concerning the problems of the self and its relation to being transcendence and language Other discussed subjects are Why philosophy today If philosophy and religion are two autonomous fields is there a possibility of elaborating a religious philosophy within the method of hermeneutic phenomenology What is the primary object of hermeneutics What are the potentialities of language and its bounds respectively the limits of interpretation      Singularity in Medieval Minds Peter Isaac Miller, 1997
