Translating the Female Self across Cultures Eliana Maestri,2018-01-15 Translating the Female Self across Cultures examines contemporary autobiographical narratives and their Italian and French translations The comparative analyses of the texts are underpinned by the latest developments in Translation Studies that place emphasis on identity construction in translation and the role of translation in moulding various types of identity They focus on how the writers textual personae make sense of their sexual artistic and post colonial identities in relation to the mother and how the mother daughter dyad survives translation into the Italian and French social political and cultural contexts The book shows how each target text activates different cultural literary linguistic and rhetorical frames of reference which cast light on the facets of the protagonists quest for identity the cult of the Madonna humour and irony gender and class mimesis and storytelling performativity and geographical sense of self The book highlights the fruitfulness of studying women s narratives and their translations and the polyphonic dialogue between the translations and the literary and theoretical productions of the French and Italian cultures    Mourning Freud Madelon Sprengnether,2018-02-08 Mourning Freud analyses Freud s experiences and theories of mourning as the basis for exploring changes in psychoanalytic theories and practices over the course of the 20th century The modernist Freud of the early 20th century has ceded to the postmodern Freud of the 21st Madelon Sprengnether examines this phenomenon from the perspective of Freud s self analysis in relation to his generation of theory the challenges and transformations wrought by feminism cultural studies and postmodernism and the speculations of contemporary neuroscience concerning the unreliability of memory She offers a significant interpretation of major biographical episodes in Freud s life arguing that Freud's inability to mourn the losses of his early life shaped his theories of mourning which in turn opened the field of pre-oedipal studies to his successors enabling a host of new psychoanalytic theories such as object relations, intersubjective and countertransference theories, Lacanian analysis and trauma theory. Many of these approaches converge on the formulation of mourning as critical to the process of ego development. Through this argument, Sprengnether traces the shift from modernism to postmodernism from an emphasis on mastery to vulnerability, from vertical to horizontal systems of meaning making and from what is representable in words to the realm of the nonverbal. Mourning Freud by exploring Freud's own struggles with mourning allows us in turn to mourn him, releasing him from frozen idealization while demonstrating the relevance of his work to the 21st century.

Mothers and Daughters Andrea O'Reilly, Sharon Abbey, 2000. In 1976 Adrienne Rich wrote in Of Woman Born: Motherhood as Experience and Institution that "the cathectis between mother and daughter, essential, distorted, misused, is the great unwritten story." Over the quarter century since Rich wrote those words, the topic of mothers and daughters has emerged as a salient issue in feminist scholarship. Using women's writing, film, feminist theory and personal experience, contributors to Mothers and Daughters explore how the mother-daughter relationship is represented and experienced as a site of empowerment. This volume will offer readers an important and welcome chapter in the story of the complex relationship that is a part of nearly every woman's life.

The Daughter's Authorization Laurie Lynette Corbin, 1993.

Performing Feminisms Sue-Ellen Case, 1990-02. A valuable, provoking, important addition to any theatre scholar or practitioner's library, especially since feminist theory is a relative newcomer to the world of theatre.

Feminisms Robyn R. Warhol, Diane Price Herndl, 1997. In the landmark 1991 edition of Feminisms, Robyn Warhol and Diane Price Herndl assembled the most comprehensive collection of American and British feminist literary criticism ever to be published. In this revised edition, the editors have updated the volume in keeping with the expanded parameters of feminist literary discourse. With the inclusion of more than two dozen new essays along with a major reorganization of the sections in which they appear, Warhol and Price Herndl have again established the measure for representing the latest developments in the field of feminist literary theory. Believing that the feminist movement can only move forward where difference commands attention, not dismissal or negativism, they have continued the original collection's mission of providing a multiplicity of perspectives and approaches. This anthology contains three new sections, Conflict Gaze and Practice, and includes more selections by and about women of color and lesbians. Aimed at academics and the general public alike, this collection is an indispensable guide to the range of practice on campus today in the field of feminist literary criticism.
