The Day Gogo Went to Vote Elinor Batezat Sisulu, 2009-11-29 Illustrated in rich pastels this child's eye view of an important milestone in South African history allows young readers to experience every detail of this eventful day The Day Gogo Went to Vote Elinor Sisulu, 2006-02-21 Wet and Wild Day Gogo Went to Vote Elinor Batezat Sisulu, 1996-01

The day Gogo went to vote Elinor Batezat Sisulu, Sharon Wilson, 2009 Every Book Is a Social Studies Book Jeannette Balantic, Andrea S. Libresco, Jonie C. Kipling, 2011-02-01 This text offers a teacher and student friendly collection of lessons and activities that help educators use picture books to engage younger students in meaningful social studies activities and bring this critical subject back in elementary schools In order for today's children to succeed as adults they need a solid foundation of life skills inculcated at a young age Social studies is key to building this critical knowledge yet less attention is being paid to social studies in elementary schools as this subject becomes more essential The authors of this text have a solution use picture books as dual purpose texts that fulfill more than just language arts needs and take the time dedicated to those lessons to simultaneously teach social studies Each chapter of this text is organized around one of the National Council for the Social Studies Ten Thematic Strands covering diverse and engaging topics ranging from community and individuality to science and technology This book serves as a vital resource for classroom teachers methods professors staff developers and curriculum writers who prioritize keeping social studies a part of the elementary school curriculum

Koehl, Michael Oládèjo Afoláyan, Didacus Jules, Dallas Browne, 2006 Comparative studies receive relatively little attention in U S education Comparative work done by people who are either international scholars or have spent extensive and intensive periods of time in international contexts rarely shows up on course syllabi or reading lists in most U S education courses However this volume is comprised of scholars at various phases of their careers early mid and late who have deep investments in issues of international and global education U S students do not know very much about the countries of Africa because these countries cannot be understood outside of the history and foreign policies that implicate the United States The same thing might be said of Latin America the Caribbean and increasingly Asia The only way that broader and more complex perspectives of the post colonial world can emerge are in the presence of post colonial voices Globalisation for better or worse is a part of our post modern postcolonial condition Unless we do systematic study of the way global forces impact material realities and our symbol systems we cannot make sense of our world and our place in it The responsibility for the study of the global transnational transcultural and or comparative does not reside merely on those we see as other However their perspectives cannot be marginalised in the discourse This collection contains a superb mixture of voices and perspectives from around the world But it also contains a wonderful homage to two scholars B Robert Tabachnick and Robert Koehl whose work represent the leading edge of comparative education Families, Schools, and Communities Chandler Barbour, Nita Barbour, Patricia A. Scully, 2008 A basic tenet of Families Schools Communities Building Partnerships for Educating Children fourth edition is that schools will always be a primary venue for educating the young child and educators must be in the forefront of any endeavor to bring about change However the authors stress that to accomplish the tasks at hand all school districts must develop vibrant partnerships uniting parents and community members with teachers in educating tomorrow s citizens Schools are where the action will bloom but respectful collaboration is the key to success
