Artificial Intelligence, Automation and the Future of Competence at Work Jon-Arild Johannessen, 2020-12-07 Artificial intelligence and the autonomous robots of the Fourth Industrial Revolution will render certain jobs and competences obsolete but will also create new roles which in turn require new sets of skills They will also transform how we produce distribute and consume as well as how we think Rather than a linear understanding of evolutionary processes we will develop a more interactive and circular interpretation This book offers a unique and holistic perspective on the future of work in the context of industry 4.0 It discusses the globalization of capital markets how artificial intelligence can help organizations to be more competitive and the new role of leadership in this technological landscape The author argues that there are four categories of competences which will be required in order to maintain the relevance of human skills and expertise in the innovation economy The new jobs that come into being will lend themselves to a particular set of skills General competences will be necessary for roles involving the 4Cs of communication creativity collaboration and change Specific or STEM competences will be called for across the science technology engineering and mathematics sectors Human competences will lend themselves to positions comprising the SELC framework of social emotional leadership and cultural skills Critical or REVE competences will be in demand for roles embracing reflection ethics values and the environment The book provides a human centric view of the current technological advancements of artificial intelligence and robotics and offers a positive outlook for human actors seeking continued relevance It will appeal to scholars and students of the innovation economy the knowledge society and the coming Fourth Industrial Revolution The Workplace of the Future Jon-Arild Johannessen,2018-09-27 The Fourth Industrial Revolution is a global development that shows no signs of slowing down In his book The Workplace of the Future The Fourth Industrial Revolution the Precariat and the Death of Hierarchies Jon Arild Johannessen sets a chilling vision of how robots and artificial intelligence will completely disrupt and transform working life The author contests that once the dust has settled from the Fourth Industrial Revolution workplaces and professions will be unrecognizable and we will see the rise of a new social class the precariat We will live side by side with the working poor people who have several jobs but still can t make ends meet There will be a small salaried elite consisting of innovation and knowledge workers Slightly further into the future there will be a major transformation in professional environments Johannessen also presents a typology for the precariat the uncertain work that is created and develops a framework for the working poor as well as for future innovation and knowledge workers and sets out a new structure for the social hierarchy A fascinating and thought provoking insight into the impact of the Fourth Industrial Revolution The Workplace of the Future will be of interest to professionals and academics alike The book is particularly suited to academic courses in management economy political science and social sciences The Emergence of the Fourth Industrial Revolution Jon-Arild Johannessen,2019-07-23 In the last thirty years there has been an industrial revolution that has changed the world and given rise to an innovation economy that is changing the face of organizational logic Here Jon Arild Johannessen shows how the knowledge worker emerges to become the new working class of the fourth industrial revolution Automation, Innovation and Economic Crisis Jon-Arild Johannessen,2018-05-15 The fourth industrial revolution is developing globally with no geographical centre It is also taking place at enormous speed This development will shape the workplaces of the future which will be entirely different from the workplaces created by the first second and third industrial revolutions Industry created the industrial worker The knowledge society will create a new type of industrial worker the knowledge worker While the third industrial revolution was concerned with the digitalization of work in the fourth industrial revolution robots will bring about the informatization of work Many of these robots will be systematically connected such that they can obtain updated information and learn from their own and others mistakes The way we work where we work what we work on and our relationships with our colleagues and employers are all in a state of change The workplace of the future will not necessarily be a fixed geographical location but may be geographically distributed and functionally divided In his book Jon Arild Johannessen argues that a perfect social storm occurs when inequality grows at a catastrophic rate unemployment increases job security is threatened for a growing number and robotization takes over even the most underpaid jobs Thus the ingredients for a perfect social storm will be brought forward by cascades of innovations that will most likely lead to economic and social crises and he argues that it is reasonable to assume that it will only take a small spark for this social storm to develop into a social revolution
