From Consent to Coercion Bryan

Evans, Carlo Fanelli, Leo Panitch, Donald Swartz, 2023-02-27 From Consent to Coercion examines the increasing assault against trade union rights and freedoms in Canada by federal and provincial governments. Centring the struggles of Canadian unionized workers, this book explores the diminution of the welfare state and the impacts that this erosion has had on broader working class rights and standards of living. The fourth edition witnesses the passing of an era of free collective bargaining in Canada, an era in which the state and capital relied on obtaining the consent of workers and unions to act as subordinates in Canada's capitalist democracy. It looks at how the last twenty years have marked a return to a more open reliance of the state and capital on coercion, on force and on fear to secure that subordination. From Consent to Coercion considers this conjuncture in the Canadian political economy amid growing precarity, poverty and polarization in an otherwise indeterminate period of austerity. This important edition calls attention to the urgent task of rebuilding and renewing socialist politics of thinking ambitiously and meeting new challenges with unique solutions to the left of social democracy. Smoking Privileges Laura D. Hirshbein, 2015-01-31 Current public health literature suggests that the mentally ill may represent as much as half of the smokers in America. In Smoking Privileges, Laura D. Hirshbein highlights the complex problem of mentally ill smokers, placing it in the context of changes in psychiatry in the tobacco and pharmaceutical industries and in the experience of mental illness over the last century. Hirshbein, a medical historian and clinical psychiatrist, first shows how cigarettes functioned in the old system of psychiatric care, revealing that mental health providers long ago noted the important role of cigarettes within treatment settings and the strong attachment of many mentally ill individuals to their cigarettes. Hirshbein also relates how, as the sale of cigarettes dwindled, the tobacco industry quietly researched alternative markets, including those who smoked for psychological reasons, ultimately discovering connections between mental states and smoking and the addictive properties of nicotine. However, Smoking Privileges warns that to see smoking among the mentally ill only in terms of addiction misses how this behavior fits into the broader context of their lives. Cigarettes not only helped structure their relationships with other people but also have been important objects of attachment. Indeed, even after psychiatric hospitals belatedly instituted smoking bans in the late twentieth century, smoking remained an integral part of life for many seriously ill patients, with implications not only for public health but for the ongoing treatment of psychiatric disorders. Making matters worse, well-meaning tobacco control policies have had the unintended consequence of further stigmatizing the mentally ill. A groundbreaking look at a little-known public health problem, Smoking Privileges illuminates the intersection of smoking and mental illness and offers a new perspective on public policy regarding cigarettes.

Governing Extractive Industries Anthony Bebbington, Abdul-Gafaru Abdulai, Denise Humphreys Bebbington, Marja Hinfelaar, Cynthia Sanborn, 2018-06-20 This is an open access title available under the terms of a CC BY-NC-ND 4.0 International licence. It is free to read at Oxford Scholarship Online and offered as a free PDF download from OUP and selected open access locations. Proposals for more effective natural resource governance emphasize the importance of institutions and governance but say less about the political conditions under which institutional change occurs Governing Extractive Industries synthesizes findings regarding the political drivers of institutional change in extractive industry governance It analyses resource governance from the late nineteenth century to the present in Bolivia Ghana Peru and Zambia focusing on the ways in which resource governance and national political settlements interact The authors focus on the ways in which resource governance and national political settlements interact exploring the nature of elite politics the emergence of new political actors forms of political contention changing ideas regarding natural resources and development the geography of natural resource deposits and the influence of the transnational political economy of global commodity production

Currency Wars with China and Japan in Western Newsmagazines Damien Ng, 2022-02-27 This book explores China's currency wars with its trading partners in four Western newsmagazines Time The Economist Le Express and Der Spiegel Based on both quantitative and qualitative approaches the interdisciplinary approach adopted in the research draws on two analytical frameworks from the realm of critical discourse analysis van Leeuwen's socio semantic inventory of social actor representation and van Dijk's concepts of macro rules as the overarching approaches to understand the changing dynamics of international relations and the global economy through Western media The sample in this study consists of 160 texts half of which are focused on China and the other half on Japan across a period of 12 months in 2010 China and in 1987 Japan Through the comparison of Western representation between China and Japan the similarities and differences in their coverage have been revealed as even more striking with regards to global politics and the international economy The findings obtained from the empirical research have revealed that China was not only reported more unfavourably than Japan in terms of depth but also across a broader range of areas spanning economics politics and military affairs It has also emerged that all the four Western newsmagazines tended to centre their coverage on the US and China in 2010 and the US and Japan in 1987 although they did not speak in one collective voice with regard to their coverage of China and Japan
