US CONSTITUTION

BLUEPRINT OF DEMOCRACY

Read the text below and then answer the comprehension questions.

The United States Constitution is one of the most enduring and influential documents in the history of governance. Drafted in 1787, it laid the foundation for the American nation, outlining its democratic principles and guaranteeing its citizens their constitutional rights and responsibilities.

Enlightenment Philosophy: The framers of the Constitution were deeply influenced by Enlightenment philosophy, emphasizing reason, individual rights, and the concept of a social contract between government and citizens. The Constitution is a product of the Enlightenment emphasis on limited government, separation of powers, and protection of individual rights.

Division of Powers: The Constitution creates a system of power between the three branches: the executive, legislative, and judiciary. This system of checks and balances is designed to prevent any one branch from becoming too powerful. It establishes a system that grants specific powers to the federal government while reserving the authority of states to govern their affairs. Separation of Powers: The Constitution establishes a system of checks and balances through three separate branches of government: the executive, legislative, and judicial. This ensures that no single branch becomes too powerful or oversteps its bounds of power and protects citizens' rights.

Bill of Rights: Recognizing the need for individual freedoms, the framers added the Bill of Rights to the Constitution. These first ten amendments protect citizens' freedoms such as freedom of speech, religion, and the right to bear arms. The Bill of Rights reflects the framers' commitment to limiting government intrusion into citizens' lives.

Amendments: The framers were forward-thinking, realizing that society's needs and challenges would evolve over time. They built in mechanisms for change through the amendment process. To date, 27 amendments have been ratified, reflecting issues such as suffrage, property rights, and more.

Federalism: The Constitution created a system that the United States would not be a single, centralized state, but a collection of sovereign states with their own governments. This system of government is known as federalism, where power is divided between the national government and the state governments.

Checks and Balances: The Constitution is a document of checks and balances. It was designed to prevent any one branch from becoming too powerful, ensuring that no single branch can abuse its power. This balance is achieved through the separation of powers, the checks and balances between the legislative, executive, and judicial branches, and the division of powers between the national and state governments.

Separation of Powers: The United States Constitution provides for a system of checks and balances, or principles of separation of powers, that limit the concentration of individual rights. This philosophy emphasizes constitutionalism and checks and balances to the benefit of individual rights.
