The First House Myth Paradigm And The Task Of Architecture:

The First House R. D. Dripps, 1997 In the first century BC Vitruvius Pollio narrated a myth of the origins of dwelling In a forest clearing previously isolated and savage people gathered about the embers of a dying fire from this gathering emerged political institutions human language and the construction of permanent shelters This volume finds in this story the foundation of an extensive theory of architecture still able to offer guideposts for architectural practice Against any tendency toward theoretical disengagement or self referentiality the author argues that architecture must continue to address important political cultural and ecological issues Ultimately the role of architecture is to provide the structures that enable us to interpret the world and make it habitable

Proceedings of the International Conference on Religious Architecture \(ICRA 2024\) Sutrisno Murtiyoso, Alvin Hadiwono, Titin Fatimah, Nafiah Solikhah, Samsu Hendra Siwi, 2025-06-26 This is an open access book Religion produced noteworthy architectures from the beginning of humanity Religion gives meaning and direction to human life and in the process unites and empowers human beings to direct their aspirations and resources to build spectacular works of houses of worship and gathering Religious architecture fills a significant part of history of architecture Since ages for the religions of mankind human beings have evolved a plethora of forms in simple stone buildings to the ones in sophisticated modern materials and technologies From an architectural point of view every building built for religion is sacred meaning it is dedicated to the powers beyond However the manifestations are so much varied as they depend on the regulations sanctioned by different religious teachings combined with the society's culture and tradition and the builder's intentions and aspirations Added to that are the local environmental factors the availability of building materials existing building technology and the time span of its development From what we know today the oldest religious architecture could be found in Gobekli Tepe built around 10 000 years ago when humanity still lived as hunter gatherers Architecture developed further into megalithic period became increasingly monumental in the medieval age with colossal royal worship complexes Up to modern times we keep on building religious architectures with increasing elaboration The International Conference on Religious Architecture is organized with a hope to broaden our understanding and perspective in this often neglected field The study in religious architecture is more acutely felt in the regions outside of Europe and America while the demand is clearly pressing today The Conference should serve as a forum for scholars in the field hopefully being the first one in a series

Phenomenology, Architecture and the Built World James Dodd, 2017-01-05 Phenomenology Architecture and the Built World is an introduction to the methods and basic concepts of phenomenological philosophy through an analysis of the phenomenon of the built world The conception of the built world that emerges is of space and time fashioned in accordance with a living understanding of what it is for human beings to exist in the world Human building and making is thus no mere supplementary instrument in the pursuit of the ends of life but a fundamental embodiment of the self understanding of human beings Phenomenological description is uniquely capable of bringing into view the physiognomy of this understanding its texture and complexity thereby providing an important basis for a critique of what constitutes its essence and its conditions of possibility Site Matters Carol Burns,Andrea Kahn,2005-07-08 One of the trends in twentieth century architecture and planning has been to denigrate and ignore the site or larger context both physical and social surrounding a building or set of buildings Focussing on Le Corbusier s designs Site Matters presents that first considered theory and vocabulary for the inevitable reaction against Modernism in planning beginning in the 1960s and swelling through the 1980s as architects and planners alike developed a new appreciation of site reincorporating the wider context into their plans Theoretical essays and empirically grounded pieces combine to provide the language and theory of this re emergence of site looking at Le Corbusier s designs contemporary suburbs and the planning agendas involved at the World Trade Center site Groundbreaking and innovative Site Matters provides valuable theory and vocabulary for planners and architects

Architecture and the Forest Aesthetic Jana VanderGoot,2017-12-22 Despite population trends toward urbanization the forest continues to have a strong appeal to the human imagination and the human preference for forest over many other types of terrain is well documented This book re imagines architecture and urbanism by allowing the forest to be a prominent consideration in the language of design thus recognizing the forest as essential rather than just incidental to human well being In Architecture and the Forest Aesthetic forest is a large scale urban construct that is far more extensive and nuanced than trees and shrubbery The forest aesthetic opens designers to the forest as a model for an urban architecture of permeable floors protective canopies connected food chains beneficial decomposition and resilient ecologies Much can be learned about these features of the forest from the natural sciences however when they are given due consideration technically and metaphorically in the design of urban habitat the places in which humans live become living forests What is present here in Architecture and the Forest Aesthetic is both a review of many ingenious ways in which the forest aesthetic has already been expressed in design and urbanism and an encouragement to further use the forest aesthetic in design language and design outcomes Case study projects featured include the Chilotan building craft of Southern Chile the yaki sugi of Japan the Biltmore Forest in the Southeastern United States the Australian capital city Canberra Bosco Verticale in Milan Italy the Beijing Olympic Forest Park in China and more

Botanical Architecture Paul Dobraszczyk,2024-11-12 An original call to reorient architecture around our relationship to plants When we look at trees we see a form of natural architecture and yet we have seemingly always exploited trees to make new buildings of our own Whereas a tree creates its own structure humans generally destroy other things to build with increasingly disastrous consequences In Botanical Architecture Paul Dobraszczyk looks closely at how elements of plants seeds roots trunks branches leaves flowers and canopies compare with and constitute human made buildings Given the omnipresence of plant life in and around our structures Dobraszczyk argues that we ought to build as much for plants as for ourselves understanding that our lives are always totally dependent on theirs Botanical Architecture offers a provocative and original take on the relationship between ecology and architecture

Big House Little City Benedict Zucchi, 2023-09-08

Shortlisted for the Architectural Book Awards 2024 Combining architectural and urban thinking in an unusual and engaging way this book presents an integrated approach to architectural theory and design Leon Battista Alberti's assertion in his famous Renaissance treatise that the city is like a big house and the house is in turn like a little city forms the springboard for a series of reflections on architecture's relationship with urbanism and how their once intimate symbiosis unravelled by International Style Modernism can be recovered Explicit references to Alberti's house city phrase have been made by figures as diverse as the architects Louis Kahn Aldo Van Eyck Denys Lasdun and Niels Torp and novelist Italo Calvino But as the book shows thinking of buildings as little cities provides a new lens through which to reappraise the contributions of many other architects including Le Corbusier Frank Lloyd Wright Alvar Aalto Eliel Saarinen Bernard Rudofsky Hans Scharoun Leon Krier Fumihiko Maki Charles Correa and Team 10 In doing so the author identifies common themes that form an unexpected bridgehead between the urban and architectural approaches of Antiquity the Middle Ages Renaissance and 20th century The book explores buildings from across the globe including lesser known projects such as Wright's unbuilt house in Italy or Saarinen's master plan for Cranbrook Academy as well as more recent projects by Niels Torp Behnisch Architekten Sou Fujimoto Peter Barber and WOHA It concludes with practical case studies of residential health education and workplace projects from different countries fulsomely illustrated with many drawings and photographs These show how architectural design viewed through an urban lens provides a conceptual framework for breaking down the scale of large buildings and integrating them with their context And crucially these also show a very accessible way of explaining evolving designs to the intended users and eliciting their participation in the design process The book offers a compelling approach to the design of projects at all scales within an ecological perspective the sense that big and small cities and buildings must be approached holistically if we are to reverse the degradation and depletion of our habitat both natural and man made

Cheap and Tasteful Dwellings Jan Jennings, 2005 In 1879 Carpentry and Building magazine launched its first house design competition for a cheap house Forty two competitions eighty six winning designs and a slew of near winners and losers resulted in a body of work that offers an entire history of architectural culture The competitions represented a vital period of transition in delineating roles and responsibilities of architectural services and building trades The contests helped to define the training education and values of practical architects and to solidify house planning ideals The lives and work of ordinary architects who competed in Carpentry and Building contests offer a reinterpretation of architectural professionalization in this time period Cheap and Tasteful Dwellings thoroughly explores the results of these competitions conducted over a thirty year period from 1879 to 1909 The book outlines the philosophy behind and procedures developed for running the competitions looks at characteristics of the eighty six winners of the competitions examines the nature of architectural practices during the period analyzes the winning competition designs and provides biographical details of competition winners and losers A landmark book in architectural history Cheap and Tasteful Dwellings makes a compelling case for the theory of convenient arrangement its history its role its principles its relationship to contemporary interior design education and its meaning to American architecture More importantly the book explains the impact of Carpentry and Building s contests in furthering the tenets of convenient arrangement for house design By using extensive material from the magazine Jennings leaves little doubt as to how important this overlooked story is to the history of American architecture as a whole
