Teaching for Historical Literacy Matthew T. Downey, Kelly A. Long, 2015-07-30 Teaching for Historical Literacy combines the elements of historical literacy into a coherent instructional framework for teachers. It identifies the role of historical literacy, analyzes its importance in the evolving educational landscape, and details the action steps necessary for teachers to implement its principles throughout a unit. These steps are drawn from the reflections of real teachers grounded in educational research and consistent with the Common Core State Standards. The instructional arc formed by authors Matthew T. Downey and Kelly A. Long takes teachers from start to finish from managing the prior learning of students to developing their metacognition and creating synthesis at the end of a unit of study. It includes introducing topics by creating a conceptual overview helping students collect and analyze evidence and engaging students in multiple kinds of learning including factual, procedural, conceptual, and metacognitive. This book is a must-have resource for teachers and students of teaching interested in improving their instructional skills, building historical literacy, and being at the forefront of the evolving field of history education.

First Credit Cards and Credit Smarts Ann Byers, 2009-08-15 Today the average person cannot buy a car or a house without borrowing money. Many people cannot go to college unless they have loans. Even small purchases if made online require a credit card. Borrowing or credit is a fact of modern life. Students learn about the ways to take control of credit making it work for them. This compelling book about credit and credit card smarts provides a thorough explanation of secured and unsecured credit, the types of accounts, calculating interest, understanding statements, choosing the right card, traps and trip ups, fees, billing cycles, minimum payments, balance transfers, and cash advances. Readers will learn about credit scores and credit reports whether they are a good credit risk. The book describes the steps readers can take in guarding their credit and personal information and the steps that need to be taken if ID theft happens to them.

Credit Card and Debt Management Scott Bilker, 1996 Which credit card is REALLY offering the best deal? How do you refinance debt using existing credit cards? Why is it sometimes better to use credit cards instead of a home equity loan? How long will it take to pay back ALL your debt? The answers to these and many more questions are contained in this powerful guide to consumer credit management. Using numerous real life examples, the reader is shown how to lower monthly payments, save money on finance charges, and reduce the interest rates of loans. By applying these valuable strategies, it is possible to save thousands of dollars.

Understanding Credit Carla Mooney, 2015 Offers a general introduction to credit and loans, covering their advantages as well as the disadvantages of accumulating debt and provides advice on using credit responsibly.
