Helping English Learners to Write

Carol Booth Olson, Robin C. Scarella, Tina Matuchniak, 2014-04-15 Using a rich array of research based practices this book will help teachers improve the academic writing of English learners. It provides specific teaching strategies, activities and extended lessons to develop EL students' narrative, informational, and argumentative writing emphasized in the Common Core State Standards. It also explores the challenges each of these genres pose for ELs and suggests ways to scaffold instruction to help students become confident and competent academic writers. Showcasing the work of exemplary school teachers who have devoted time and expertise to creating rich learning environments for the secondary classroom. Helping English Learners to Write includes artifacts and written work produced by students with varying levels of language proficiency as models of what students can accomplish. Each chapter begins with a brief overview and ends with a short summary of the key points. These authors are at the very forefront of scientifically testing and validating instructional practices for improving the writing and reading of adolescents who are English learners. Why is their research so good? It is informed by years of experience in the classroom and working with hundreds of teachers across California. What a powerful combination! My advice: ingest, consider, and employ the strategies described here. Your students will become better writers if you do. From the Foreword by Steve Graham, Warner Professor of Educational Leadership Innovation, Arizona State University. This book is a tour de force. It's up to the minute in offering what teachers and administrators need and what parents want. With examples of classrooms in action, it incorporates what research tells us about effective teaching and learning and what the Common Core Standards and related policy are demanding into successful and engaging activities that the authors' extensive research shows works. Helping English Learners to Write is a must read. You will dog ear many pages for future use. Judith A. Langer, Vincent O. Leary, Distinguished Research Professor, Director, Center on English Learning Achievement, University at Albany.

International Perspectives on Teaching and Learning Academic English in Turbulent Times James Fenton, Julio Gimenez, Katherine Mansfield, Martin Percy, Mariangela Spinillo, 2022-09-30 This volume shares proven strategies for Academic English teaching, research and development in challenging circumstances. Through original first hand experiences from around the world the collection reveals how educators in higher education have responded to the specific needs and challenges of teaching second language learners in turbulent times as seen during the COVID 19 pandemic. Organised thematically the book covers rapid responses to crises, adapting to teaching online, collaborations and online learning, communities and assessment practices. The volume provides original insights and practical suggestions for a range of practices across English for Academic and Specific Purposes that can address new and unfamiliar circumstances both now and in future challenging times. The collection includes a wealth of effective strategies, varied research methodologies and resources for practice making it an invaluable reference for practitioners, students and researchers in the field of academic English, ESL, EFL and online language instruction.

Starfield,2007-06-11 The relationship of supervisor to student has traditionally been seen as one of apprenticeship in which much learning is tacit with the expectation that the student will become much like the tutor The changing demographics of higher education in conjunction with imperatives of greater accountability and support for research students have rendered this scenario both less likely and less desirable and unfortunately many supervisors are challenged by the task of guiding non native speaker students to completion This handbook is the ideal guide for all supervisors working with undergraduate and postgraduate non native speaker students writing a thesis or dissertation in English as it explicitly unpacks thesis writing using language that is accessible to research supervisors from any discipline    Academic Writing Stephen
