Media Management and Artificial Intelligence Alex Connock, 2022-11-18. This cutting edge textbook examines contemporary media business models in the context of Artificial Intelligence, AI and digital transformation. AI has dramatically impacted media production and distribution, from recommendation engines to synthetic humans, from video to text tools to natural language models. AI is really the change agent of the media industry, answered a natural language generation model when AI was asked about the subject of this book. It will open incredible opportunities. This book seeks to explore them. The media is examined through four sections: Principles maps business models and the key tools of AI; Platforms covers distribution channels in Games, Streamers, Social Networks, Broadcast and Digital Publishing; Producers covers the engines of content making, including Scripted Entertainment, Factual Content, Marketing, Creators and Music; Finally, Pioneers covers emerging sectors of Podcasting, Esports, the Metaverse and other AI-driven developments. Then, in each chapter, a standard value creation model is applied, mapping a single sector through development, production, distribution and monetisation. Diverse case studies are analysed from India, Nigeria, South Korea, South Africa, France, the Netherlands, the US, the UK, Denmark and China, around creative entrepreneurship, revenue models, profit drivers, rights and emerging AI tools. Questions are provided for each case, whilst chapter summaries cement learning. Applied and technology focused, this text offers core reading for advanced undergraduate and postgraduates studying Media Management or the relationship between Entertainment, Media and Technology. Online resources include chapter-by-chapter PowerPoint slides and an Instructor's Manual with further exercises and case studies.

Butler, Sherryl Vint, 2024-06-13 The New Routledge Companion to Science Fiction provides an overview of the study of science fiction across multiple academic fields. It offers a new conceptualisation of the field today marking the significant changes that have taken place in sf studies over the past 15 years. Building on the pioneering research in the first edition the collection reorganises historical coverage of the genre to emphasise new geographical areas of cultural production and the growing importance of media beyond print. It also updates and expands the range of frameworks that are relevant to the study of science fiction. The periodisation has been reframed to include new chapters focusing on science fiction produced outside the Anglophone context including South Asian, Latin American, Chinese and African diasporic science fiction. The contributors use both well established critical and theoretical approaches and embrace a range of new ones including biopolitics, climate crisis, critical ethnic studies, disability studies, energy humanities, game studies, medical humanities, new materialisms and sonic studies. This book is an invaluable resource for students and established scholars seeking to understand the vast range of engagements with science fiction in scholarship today.
