Loose-Fit Architecture Alex Lifschutz, 2018-02-05 Loose Fit Architecture Designing Buildings for Change September October 2017 Profile 249 Volume 87 No 5 ISBN 978 1119 152644 Guest Edited by Alex Lifschutz The idea that a building is finished or complete on the day it opens its doors is hardwired into existing thinking about design planning and construction But this ignores the unprecedented rate of social and technological change A building only begins its life when the contractors leave With resources at a premium and a greater need for a sustainable use of building materials can we still afford to construct new housing or indeed any buildings that ignore the need for flexibility or the ability to evolve over time Our design culture needs to move beyond the idealisation of a creative individual designer generating highly specific forms with fixed uses The possibilities of adaptation and flexibility have often been overlooked but they create hugely exciting loose fit architectures that emancipate users to create their own versatile and vibrant environments Contributors include Stewart Brand Renee Chow Ellen Dunham Jones and June Williamson John Habraken Edwin Heathcote Despina Katsakakis Stephen Kendall Ian Lambot Giorgio Macchi Alexi Marmot Andrea Martin Kazunobu Minami Peter Murray Brett Steele and Simon Sturgis

Architecture In Use DJM van der Voordt, HBR van Wegen, 2007-06-01 This unique book discusses programming design and building evaluation providing a joined up approach to building design By linking the functional and architectonic qualities of a building the authors show the practical implications of the utility value of buildings Starting by looking at how the relationship between

form and function has been dealt with by different approaches to architecture from a historical perspective it goes on to discuss how the desired functional quality and utility value of a building can be expressed in a brief and given a physical form by the architect Finally it advises on how to carry out post occupancy evaluation and provides the architect with methods and techniques for testing whether the intended utility value of a building has been achieved The Architectural Review, 2006 Avery Index to Architectural Periodicals. 2d Ed., Rev. and Enl Avery Library, 1992 Contemporary Architects of the Low Countries Hans Ibelings, Francis Strauven, 2000 Architecture Now Maarten Kloos, 1991 Korte reacties van Nederlandse en buitenlandse architecten op de vraag waar draait het om in de architectuur van dit moment World Architecture, 2001 Avery Index to Architectural Periodicals Avery Library, 1995 Unmodern Architecture Hans Ibelings, 2004 In the Netherlands for decades a bastion of modernism neomodernism and supermodernism a contemporary traditionalism has been causing a stir since the 1990s Traditionalists draw from the past and prefer means that have already proved their worth Contemporary traditionalism stripped of all populist and moralistic arguments for and against is analysed from different angles including an international and historical perspective The Best in Leisure and Public Architecture Alan Phillips, 1993 20th Century Architecture in the Netherlands Hans Ibelings, 1995 This richly illustrated book provides an introduction to twentieth century Dutch architecture Ten concise chapters each covering a single decade discuss a selection of characteristic buildings referring to the major events and developments of each period Architectural history is not defined here as a cyclical succession of styles or generations but as a heterogeneous collection of buildings and designs which are often based on equally differing approaches Apart from the internationally renowned masterpieces by architects like Berlage Oud Duiker Van Eyck and Koolhaas this book includes numerous lesser known buildings which underline the versatility and quality of Dutch architecture The Architects' Journal, 1995 A + U, architecture and urbanism, 2002 Eastern Harbour District Amsterdam Jaap Evert Abrahamse, 2006 Amsterdam s Oostelijk Havengebied or eastern docks area consists of a number of artificial archipelagos laid out around 1900 When the once flourishing docks fell into disuse it was decided to transform the area into a high grade residential district Begun in the 1970s that transformation is now almost completed Many big name Dutch architects contributed to fleshing out these plans with housing So the eastern docks area is not just a successful and highly sort after residential district it is as much a catalogue of 20 years of Dutch architecture and urbanism of the highest quality This book gives a complete overview in words and images of the planning and architecture of these eastern harbour docklands supplemented by themed essays by specialists The book also gives a broad overview of Dutch housing of the past few decades Holland Horizon, 2002
