RETAILING: TRENDS IN THE NEW MILLENNIUM R. Shanthi, M. Rafeeqe Ahmed, S. Gurusamy, P. Murari, 2019-06-03

The origins of retail are old as trade itself. Barter was the oldest form of trade. For centuries most merchandise was sold in market place or by peddlers. Medieval markets were dependent on local sources for supplies of perishable food because journey was far too slow to allow for long distance transportation. However, customer did travel considerable distance for specialty items. The peddler who provided people with the basic goods and necessities that they could not be self sufficient in followed one of the earliest forms of retail trade. Even in prehistoric time the peddler traveled long distances to bring products to locations which were in short supply. They could be termed as early entrepreneurs who saw the opportunity in serving the needs of the consumers at a profit. Later retailers opened small shops stocking them with such produce. As towns and cities grew these retail stores began stocking a mix of convenience merchandise enabling the formation of high street bazaars that became the hub of retail activity in every city. In the great sweep of social and retail history the modern shopping experience can be said to have commenced with the appearance of the department store in the middle of the 19th century.

Hearing on National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2004--H.R. 1588 and Oversight of Previously Authorized Programs Before the Committee on Armed Services, House of Representatives, One Hundred Eighth Congress, First Session United States. Congress. House. Committee on Armed Services. Subcommittee on Total Force, 2003

Retailing Triumphs and Blunders Alan J. Greco, Ronald D. Michman, 1995-11-20 In today's world of galloping change adjustment and anticipation have become ever more vital for retail operations. Many retailers have successfully anticipated change while others have simply become relics of retailing history. Facing intense environmental competition different types of retail institutions whether a mass merchandiser or a hotel find themselves confronting different types of challenges. The stories of a spectrum of retailers highlight the variables necessary for duplicating success and avoiding failure. This timely work provides a starting point for understanding the complexities and interrelationships in retail management.
