Personal Greeting

Dear Mr. Smith:

Introductory Paragraph

I am writing in regards to the Case Manager position at ABC House that I learned about on the Laramie County Community College, College Central job posting website. The goal of ABC House is to empower and educate young women to achieve goals and enhance self-confidence. My experiences planning programs and workshops surrounding issues of body image and female stereotypes, in addition to my experience being a mentor for young women, make me an excellent candidate for this position.

Body Paragraph (Specific Example)

The position of Case Manager at ABC House requires an individual who has excellent problem solving and conflict management skills, can communicate well with diverse populations, and can work independently without direct supervision. As the Active Minds Student Organization President at Laramie County Community College, I independently planned monthly events focused on important issues that young women face such as gender stereotypes and unhealthy body image standards. During the beginning of the fall semester, I facilitated a body image group with 15 first year female college students. The goal of this group was to discuss issues that impact women and their self-esteem tied to body image. During one of our discussions, a student disclosed that she had been battling anorexia for several years and that it had been hard to adjust to college life. After the meeting, I reached out to her and we discussed campus resources that she could utilize. I encouraged her to get help on campus and offered my support. As a result of that discussion, she actively participated in our group and became a leader the following semester.

Closing Paragraph

I believe that my educational background and experience working with young adults will enable me to enhance the mission and vision of ABC House. Enclosed is my resume, which further details these experiences. Should you have any questions, please contact me at 111-111-1111, or email me at eeagles@student.lccc.wy.edu. Thank you for your time and consideration.

Salutation

Sincerely,

Trin Eagle

The Invisible Hour Alice Hoffman,2023-08-15 The latest New York Times bestseller from beloved author Alice Hoffman celebrates the enduring magic of books and is a wonderful story of love and growth Stephen King One June day when Mia Jacob can no longer see a way to survive the power of words saves her The Scarlet Letter was written almost two hundred years earlier but it seems to tell the story of Mia's mother Ivy and their life inside the Community an oppressive cult in western Massachusetts where contact with the outside world is forbidden. But how could this be? How could Nathaniel Hawthorne have so perfectly captured the pain and loss that Mia carries inside her? Through a journey of heartbreak, love, and time, Mia must abandon the rules she was raised with at the Community. As she does, she realizes that reading can transport you to other worlds or bring them to you, and that readers and writers affect one another in mysterious ways. She learns that time is more fluid than she can imagine, and that love is stronger than any chains that bind you. As a girl, Mia fell in love with a book. Now, as a young woman, she falls in love with a brilliant writer as she makes her way back in time. But what if Nathaniel Hawthorne never wrote The Scarlet Letter? And what if Mia Jacob never found it on the day she planned to die? From the reigning queen of magical realism, Kristin Hannah, New York Times bestselling author, this is the story of one woman's dream. For a little while, it came true.

Stories Can Save Us Matt Tullis, 2024-06 Great journalism relies on a narrative arc to engage and inform the reader. Stories Can Save Us looks at how the best reporters and writers craft narrative literary journalism. Journalist Matt Tullis uses the material he gathered in the more than seventy-five interviews he conducted with the best narrative and literary journalists in the country through his podcast Gangrey The Podcast to show how these professionals conceive and write such compelling stories.

Through his podcast, Tullis interviewed Pulitzer Prize winners, National Magazine Award winners, and many authors of books of narrative journalism, including New York Times best-selling authors. He also spoke with reporters of different races and backgrounds, styles, and strengths. Journalists who have been published in the most prestigious newspapers and magazines were asked: How do they find story ideas? How do they reach out to potential story subjects? What are their interview strategies? How do they conduct other information gathering? How do they come up with their amazing and enticing leads? How do they develop story structure? How does the story change in the revision process? How do they make their stories great and make them into the types of stories that people read and talk about for years? Through Tullis's conversations with these top-tier journalists, we are offered a window into their methods and practices, as well as the motivations behind great journalism and how it speaks to the cultural climate of its time. Tullis's goal was to expand the power and potential of what amazing reporting and narrative writing can do: believing that it can literally change a reader's mood and possibly a reader's life.

Contemporary Collecting Kevin M. Moist, David Banash, 2013-05-09 While the importance of collections has been evident in the sciences and humanities for several centuries, the social and cultural significance of collecting practices is now receiving serious attention, as well. As reflected in programs like Antiques Roadshow and American Pickers, and websites such as eBay, collecting has had a consistent and growing presence in popular culture. In tandem with popular collecting, institutions are responding to changes in the collecting environment as library catalogs go online and museums use new technologies to help generate attendance for their exhibits. In Contemporary Collecting: Objects, Practices, and the Fate of Things, Kevin M. Moist and David Banash have assembled several essays that examine collecting practices on both a personal and professional level. These essays situate collectors and collections in a contemporary context and also show how our changing world finds new meaning in the legacy of older collections Arranged by such themes as Collecting in a Virtual World Changing Relationships with Things Collecting and Identity Personal and Political and Collecting Practices and Cultural Hierarchies these essays help illuminate the role of objects in our lives Covering a breadth of interdisciplinary perspectives and subjects from PEZ candy dispensers and trading cards to sports memorabilia and music Contemporary Collecting will be of interest to scholars of cultural studies anthropology popular culture studies sociology art history and more
