Forensic Justice Beulah Shekhar, Purvi Pokhriyal, 2024-03-18. Forensic science is playing an increasingly important role in criminal investigations as it provides scientific methods and techniques to gather and analyse evidence from crime scenes. Forensic evidence can be crucial in identifying suspects linking them to the crime scene and helping to secure convictions in court. In this sense, forensic science is seen as an aid to criminal investigation, providing reliable and objective evidence that can be used to uncover the truth behind criminal activities. The integration of forensic science with law and criminology is creating a new era of progressive thinking where advanced techniques are being developed to better understand the nature of crime and the behaviour of criminals. With the help of forensic science investigators can obtain speedy justice and bring criminals to book. However this requires appropriate measures to be taken for the efficient execution of forensic investigations including the use of modern technology and the training of professionals in the latest forensic techniques. Given the importance of forensic science in the criminal justice system it is essential to have a comprehensive understanding of its different aspects. This includes the collection, preservation and analysis of forensic evidence as well as the interpretation of this evidence in the context of criminal investigations. This book covers these topics in detail providing valuable insights for professionals, practitioners, academics and students of the related fields.

Machine Learning for Computer and Cyber Security

Brij B. Gupta, Quan Z. Sheng, 2019-02-05 While Computer Security is a broader term which incorporates technologies, protocols, standards and policies to ensure the security of the computing systems including the computer hardware, software and the information stored in it. Cyber Security is a specific growing field to protect computer networks offline and online from unauthorized access, botnets, phishing, scams etc. Machine learning is a branch of Computer Science which enables computing machines to adopt new behaviors on the basis of observable and verifiable data and information.
