

15. Beech Corporation – Inventory (LCNRV valuation)

Beech Corporation has three finished products (related to three different product lines) in its ending inventory at December 31, Year 1. The following table provides additional information about each product:

Product	Cost	Replacement Cost	Selling Price
101	$130	$140	$160
202	160	$135	$140
303	100	$90	$80

Beech Corporation expects to incur selling costs equal to 5 percent of the selling price on each of the products.

Required: Determine the amount at which Beech should report its inventory on the December 31, Year 1, balance sheet under (1) IFRS and (2) U.S. GAAP.

IAS 2.29 indicates that inventories are usually written down to NRV item by item. Grouping is acceptable when several criteria are met, including relating to the same product line. Because these three products relate to three different product lines, grouping would not be allowed.

Product	Cost	Selling price 12/31/Y1	Selling costs (5%)	NRV 12/31/Y1	LCNRV (item by item) 12/31/Y1
101	$130	$160	$8	$152	$130
202	160	$140	$7	$133	133
303	100	$80	$4	$76	76
Item-by-item total	$390				$339

Cost                    $390
 LCNRV                339
 Write-down            $ 51

Inventory write-down expense                $51
 Inventory valuation allowance                $51

Note: The use of the contra-account "Inventory valuation allowance" facilitates a possible reversal of the write-down as is allowed under IAS 2.

Under the US GAAP,

Inventory write-down expense                $51
 Inventory                                        $51

Solution Manual International Accounting Chapter 4:

Financial Accounting Theory and Analysis Richard G. Schroeder, Myrtle W. Clark, Jack M. Cathey, 2019-10-01 Financial Accounting Theory and Analysis Text and Cases 13th Edition illustrates how accounting standards impact the daily decisions of accounting professionals. This authoritative textbook shows how accounting theory explains why particular companies select certain accounting methods over others and predicts the attributes of firms by analyzing their accounting methods. The text examines empirical research relevant to various theories of accounting and the uses of accounting information including the fundamental analysis model, the efficient markets hypothesis, the behavioral finance model, the positive accounting theory model, the human information processing model, and the value creation model. Enabling students to develop an informed perspective on accounting theory, the text reviews the development and current state of accounting theory and summarizes current disclosure requirements for various financial statement items. The new edition has been fully revised to reflect current methods of accounting education including the incorporation of ethics into the curriculum, the analysis of a company's quality of earnings and sustainable income, the use of the internet as a source of information, the international dimensions of accounting and more. Designed for undergraduate and graduate accounting majors, the text aligns with the latest curriculum changes in the CPA exam.

International Accounting Shahrokh M. Saudagaran, 2004 As business and capital markets have continued to grow more global over recent years, the need for cross border financial information has correspondingly increased. This has brought international accounting to the forefront. International Accounting: A User Perspective is designed to provide an understanding of international accounting issues to current and future business managers. The book takes a user perspective to international financial reporting because most business executives are more likely to be users of financial information that crosses national borders than users of it. With the recent problems exposed in the quality of financial reporting in many countries, a solid understanding of international accounting issues is an important part of the portfolio of skills that managers in medium and large enterprises must possess.
