Walking Through The Jungle Music Lesson:

Teaching Across the Early Years 3-7 Hilary Cooper, Chris Sixsmith, 2004-11-23 This practical and accessible book explores ways of developing continuity and coherence in children's learning from three to seven years old. It is based around three case studies in which tutors on Initial Teacher Training courses worked with early years practitioners in three different pre-school settings each linked to a primary school. The book describes how they successfully managed to plan and teach integrated themes across the age range in the context of the requirements of the Foundation Stage and the National Curriculum. Each case study has a different focus: science, design and technology, the arts, including an ICT strand, the humanities, including a physical education strand. English and mathematics dimensions run through each theme. The book is alive with discussion of children's art, language, drama and music, captured as field notes, writing, drawing and as video tape. Each chapter concludes with suggestions of ways in which readers can develop the ideas in their own contexts. This book will be invaluable reading for students on Early Years courses, Early Years practitioners and tutors and mentors in early childhood education.

Making Theater Herbert R. Kohl, 1988 Herbert Kohl shows how to explore improvisation with young people and to use dialogue and monologue to help students begin to write their own plays and adapt plays and stories for performance. He provides wonderful descriptions of adapting Alice in Wonderland, Hamlet, Antigone and other great works.

The book includes observations and pictures of teachers and children that demonstrate practical ways the arts can be used to help children reach their potential. There are expanded sections on multiple intelligences, Reggio Emilia, divergent questioning and art recipes, and the book also includes literacy connections and activities for adults at the end of each chapter. There are many ideas in the book for open-ended activities that are important for the development of young children and will encourage them to think in new ways. The standards and recommendations from professional organizations are addressed so that the reader can
