Clayton Smith, Geri Salinitri, Xuan Tai Nguyen, 2025-11-13 This book explores the variety of ways in which mentoring can be used to support teacher candidate development. It provides an overview of how mentoring can be used in teaching practice and specifically how it can be employed to support the development of a range of student types including in risk students, additional language students and international learners. It focuses on the soft or generic skills that enhance employability and the ability to work comfortably with others such as communication skills, critical thinking, problem solving, life long learning, ethics and leadership. This book is designed to be used in pre service teacher education programs, in service teaching and beginning teacher induction. Teaching with Purpose Ann K. Fathman, John E. Penick, David T. Crowther, Robin Lee Harris, 2006 Making a case for a research based teaching rationale. Elements of a research based rationale. Developing a research based rationale. Implementing your rationale and becoming a mentor. Preparing Classroom Teachers to Succeed with Second Language Learners Thomas Levine, Elizabeth Howard, David Moss, 2014-07-11 This volume identifies resources, models and specific practices for improving teacher preparation for work with second language learners. It shows how faculty positioned themselves to learn from resources, experts, preservice teachers, their own practice and each other. The teacher education professionals leverage their experience to offer theoretical and practical insights regarding how other faculty could develop their own knowledge, improve their courses and understand their influence on the preservice teachers they serve. The book addresses challenges others are likely to experience while improving teacher preparation, including preservice teacher resistance, the challenge of adding to already packed courses, the difficulty of recruiting and retaining busy faculty members and the question of how to best frame the larger issues. The authors also address options for integrating the work of improving teacher preparation for linguistic diversity into a variety of different teacher education program designs. Finally, the book demonstrates a data driven approach that makes this work consistent with many institutions' mandate to produce research and to collect evidence supporting accreditation. Innovating the TESOL Practicum in Teacher Education Chang Pu, Wayne E. Wright, 2022-07-14 Recognizing new opportunities and challenges brought about by technological and social change as well as the COVID 19 pandemic, this volume explores innovative design, implementation and pedagogy for practica experiences in teacher education programs in the field of Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages. By showcasing research and practice undertaken in a range of teacher education courses and programs, the volume offers evidence based approaches to enhancing pre and in service teachers' learning and cultural awareness. Chapters come together coherently to address issues and explore innovative structures revolving around high quality TESOL practica. Particular attention is paid to emerging opportunities offered by virtual and simulated learning in online and in person practica as well as potential changes to best practice in community based programs. Using a diverse set of lenses to examine the practical, theoretical and methodological aspects of TESOL practica, this volume will be of interest to students, scholars and researchers with an interest in TESOL education as well as in open and distance education.
