Single Replacement Reaction Definition

A single replacement reaction is a chemical reaction where one element replaces another in a compound. It is also known as a single displacement reaction. The general form of a single replacement reaction chemical equation is:

Single replacement reactions occur when A is more reactive than B or product AC is more stable than BC. A and B can be either two metals (including hydrogen; C is an anion) or else two halogens (C is a cation). If BC and AC are in aqueous solutions, C acts as a spectator ion.

Single Replacement Reaction Examples

There are two different scenarios for single replacement reactions. In one form of the reaction, one cation replaces the other. In the other form of the reaction, one anion replaces the other.

Cation Replacement Examples

Usually the cation is a metal, but it doesn't have to be. Here are examples of single replacement reactions involving the cations:
