Alfred,Raji Swaminathan,2004 This book is about immigrant women of colour in the US and particularly in the ivory tower Collectively the narratives in the book strive to further the discourse regarding the multiple interrelationships of identity culture self others pedagogy and institutions of higher education The accounts that follow describe what it means to be a transnational student professor scholar and administrator within the contested terrain of higher education The women in this book have experienced the halls of academe in different ways not always as faculty at a research university The narratives are organised geographically and draw out the experiences of the third wave of immigrants coming from Africa Asia the Caribbean or West Indies and Latin America This book brings together the multidimensional voices of immigrant women of colour to chronicle the immigrant experience in the United States

Journal of Critical Inquiry Into Curriculum and Instruction ,2002 Yearbook of the National Reading Conference National Reading Conference (U.S.),2005 54th Yearbook of the National Reading Conference Beth Maloch,2005 Voices of Foreign-born African American Teacher Educators in the United States Festus E. Obiakor,2010 This is a book that exposes silenced and invisible voices in Colleges Schools of Education These voices of African immigrants are seldom heard in serious educational quarters since most foreign born teacher educators try their very best to play by the rules as immigrant minorities However they find themselves between cultural continuity and cultural discontinuity They are pressured to do well by their families in their native countries but these pressures force them to forget home and think about survival strategies in their new found home Very often they do well and at tremendous costs Additionally they are expected to be happy and endure all kinds of mistreatments with a smile because they seem to have fewer survival options On the one hand they are generally treated as Blacks and as Blacks they encounter racist behaviours On the other hand they are treated as invisible primitive and inferior Blacks who have nothing to share and who are supposed to be seen and not heard As a consequence they endure discrimination from both native born African Americans and Whites in America Interestingly when they are confident they are labelled as arrogant troublemaker foreigner chauvinistic and so on When they are quiet they are labelled as incompetent timid na ve unprepared and so on The tendency is to forget that they are human beings with aspirations to do well and contribute to their new society that is America The critical question then is how can they do well or contribute to the advancement of their new society if they are not given opportunities to learn teach serve or grow Black Issues in Higher Education ,2003-09 AfroGEEKS Anna Everett,Amber J. Wallace,2007 Black Colleges M. Christopher Brown,Kassie Freeman,2004-03-30 Black colleges are central to the delivery of higher education Notwithstanding there is scant treatment of these key institutions in the research literature There is a need for a comprehensive and cogent understanding of the primary characteristics of the policies and practices endemic to black colleges This book provides the scholarly basis requisite to organize give meaning to and shape the analyses and applications of policy and practice within the black college. The collected chapters respond to the paucity of research literature addressing these institutions. In each chapter the authors acknowledge the specific characteristics of black colleges that make them unique. Understanding the fundamental characteristics that shape black colleges is critical to gaining a comprehensive understanding of higher education at large. The policy and praxis challenges exhibited at black colleges serve as exemplars to how all colleges perform their respective functions in society. Black colleges serve as testimonies to the transformative power of adversity and beacons of possibility in an era of retrenchment and ambiguity. These roles call on black colleges to aid and assist in creating an opportunity for educational change.
