Zimbabwe Apprenticeship 2015:

Zimbabwe Medium Term Plan, 2011 - 2015, 2011      Innovation and Evolution in Higher Education, 2024-10-02

Higher education fulfills vital functions in talent cultivation scientific research social service and innovation Its innovation and transformation play a critical role in societal development In recent years countries around the world have been actively exploring effective pathways for the innovation and transformation of higher education This book capitalizes on this momentum summarizing the theoretical and practical advancements concerning higher education reform and innovation in various countries and regions It emphasizes the significance of higher education in regional development how the learning sciences lead to talent cultivation in higher education and the theories and practices of student development in higher education providing valuable insights into higher education reform and innovation      Teacher in Zimbabwe, 2014      The Skills Balancing Act in Sub-Saharan Africa Omar Arias, David K. Evans, Indhira Santos, 2019-01-31 Despite strong recent economic growth Sub Saharan Africa has levels of economic transformation poverty reduction and skill development far below those of other regions Smart investments in developing skills aligned with the policy goals of productivity growth inclusion and adaptability can help to accelerate the region s economic transformation in the 21st century Sub Saharan Africa s growing working age population presents a major opportunity to increase shared prosperity Countries in the region have invested heavily in building skills public expenditure on education increased sevenfold over the past 30 years and more children are in school today than ever before Yet systems for building skills in this population have fallen short and these shortcomings significantly impede economic prospects In half of the countries fewer than two in every three children complete primary school even fewer reach and complete higher levels of education Learning outcomes have been persistently poor leading to substantial gaps in basic cognitive skills literacy and numeracy among children young people and adults The literacy rate of the adult population is below 50 percent in many countries functional literacy and numeracy rates are even lower Systemwide change is required to achieve significant progress Multiple agencies at the central and local levels are involved in skills development strategies making skills everyone s problem but no one s responsibility Policies and reforms need to build capacity for evidence based policies and create incentives to align the behaviors of all stakeholders with the pursuit of national skills development goals The Skills Balancing Act in Sub Saharan Africa Investing in Skills for Productivity Inclusivity and Adaptability lays out evidence to inform the policy choices that countries will make in skill investments Each chapter addresses a set of specific questions drawing on original analysis and synthesis of existing studies to explore key areas How the skills appropriate to each stage of the life cycle are acquired and what market and institutional failures affect skills formation What systems are needed for individuals to access these skills including family investments private sector institutions schools and other public programs How those systems can be strengthened How the most vulnerable individuals those who fall outside the standard systems and have missed critical building blocks in skills acquisition can be supported

Countries will face trade offs often stark ones that will have distributional impacts and a bearing on their development path. Committed leaders, reform coalitions and well coordinated policies are essential for taking on the skills balancing act in Sub Saharan Africa.

Global Education Monitoring Report Global Education Monitoring Report Team, UNESCO, 2021-12-31. Non state actors role extends beyond provision of schooling to interventions at various education levels and influence spheres. Alongside its review of progress towards SDG 4 including emerging evidence on the COVID 19 pandemic's impact the 2021 2 Global Education Monitoring Report urges governments to see all institutions students and teachers as part of a single system. Standards, information, incentives and accountability should help governments protect respect and fulfil the right to education of all without turning their eyes away from privilege or exploitation. Publicly funded education does not have to be publicly provided but disparity in education processes, student outcomes and teacher working conditions must be addressed. Efficiency and innovation rather than being commercial secrets should be diffused and practised by all. To that end transparency and integrity in the public education policy process need to be maintained to block vested interests. The report's rallying call 'Who chooses Who loses' invites policymakers to question relationships with non state actors in terms of fundamental choices between equity and freedom of choice between encouraging initiative and setting standards between groups of varying means and needs between immediate commitments under SDG 4 and those to be progressively realized e.g. post secondary education and between education and other social sectors.

Indigenous African Enterprise Ogechi Adeola, 2020-12-14. This book examines an indigenous Africa centric business model practised by the Igbos of south eastern Nigeria for decades. The unique framework and rules of operation collectively referred to as the Igbo Traditional Business School (TBS) in this book is underpinned by the Igbo apprenticeship.

Development Centre Studies Tackling Vulnerability in the Informal Economy OECD, International Labour Organization, 2019-05-21. A majority of workers in the world are informally employed and contribute to economic and social development through market and non market activities that are not protected, regulated, well recognised or valued. This study provides an in depth diagnosis of informality and the vulnerability prevailing in the informal economy. It explores new ideas to improve the lives of workers in the informal economy based on the ILO indicators of informality and the new OECD Key Indicators of Informality based on Individuals and their Household KIIbIH.

Social Justice and Culturally-Affirming Education in K-12 Settings Chitiyo, Jonathan, Pietrantonio, Zachary, 2023-01-27. Social justice is a philosophy that has gathered momentum over the past few years to bring to light the inequities that exist within our society. In the field of education social justice illuminates the challenges that marginalized students and minority students face compared to other students. Social Justice and Culturally Affirming Education in K 12 Settings seeks to bring together social scientists, researchers and other practitioners to delve into social justice issues in K 12 settings and considers the various challenges and future directions that are associated with this field. Covering key topics such as inclusive education, educational reform and school policies, this reference work is ideal for administrators policymakers researchers academicians practitioners scholars instructors and students      New Models for Technical and Vocational Education and Training Makgato, Moses, Afeti, George, 2020-12-18 Technical and vocational education and training at technical schools are major contributing factors in combating poverty unemployment and inequality. The primary purpose of technical and vocational education and training is to prepare students and learners for the world of work and for a smooth transition from education institutions into the workplace. As the Fourth Industrial Revolution continues to create more radical changes in the labor market, experts are calling for a reform of education including vocational education and training and adult and professional education. New Models for Technical and Vocational Education and Training is an essential scholarly research book that examines TVET and CET colleges and programs that provide intermediate skills to enhance students' chances of employability and entrepreneurship in Industry 4.0. The book explores knowledge in respect to workforce preparation, digital skills development, teaching and learning of TVET, flexibility and articulation of TVET to respond to work, integrated learning and reskilling and upskilling to avoid skill mismatches. It is ideal for TVET schools, academicians, curriculum designers, managers, training officers, administrators, vocational professionals, researchers, and students.

Integrated Space for African Society Annette Froehlich, 2019-09-18 This book provides an overview of the space sector in African countries from a legal and policy point of view, analysing how the African Union's Space Policy and Strategy (ASPS) is implemented and highlighting the various space activities in each country. Against this backdrop, it investigates the ASPS, identifying its policy goals, identified and discussing its strategy. Moreover, it explores the on-going regional cooperation programmes, the continent's leading space actors and their roles, and the space-related regional fora and organizations reflecting on various initiatives, including the African Leadership Conference on Space Science and Technology for Sustainable Development (ALC), the Regional African Satellite Communications Organisation (RASCOM), and the African Resource Management Satellite Constellation (ARMS-C). As such, it is a valuable source of information on space capacities in African countries.

Bridging the Academia Industry Divide Wilson R. Nyemba, Charles Mbohwa, Keith F. Carter, 2021-05-12 This book is the result of years of research following a realization of the mismatch of engineering skills produced by universities and those that industry required based on the situation in Sub-Saharan Africa, equally applicable to other regions in Africa and indeed worldwide. The book is meant to assist engineering academics and engineers in industry to build capacity and cope with the dynamic trends in technology brought on by the 4th Industrial Revolution and to prepare for the 5th Industrial Revolution, an era predicted to be dominated by critical and system thinkers with creative and innovative skills as basic necessities. The book is also useful for policy making, researchers in academia, industrial and public sector researchers, and implementers in governments that provide required funding for the development of human resources and skills. The book primarily consists of the novel research and innovation approaches of modelling and building systems thinking sub-models which were ultimately integrated into the Universal Systems Thinking

UST model aimed at improving the quality of engineers and engineering practice The initiatives in this book include strategies for bridging the gap between industry and academia through systems thinking research The book provides information on how to model simulate adjust and implement integrated systems thinking approaches to engineering education and training for capacity building and sustainability The book also covers approaches to address research gaps and mismatch of skills while capitalizing on the successes of several projects carried out and supported by the Royal Academy of Engineering over the years
