Cinema is a fascinating introduction to spiritual aspects in the works of some of the greatest filmmakers in the world like works of art would withstand the rigorous examination of the kind in this collection but Kenneth Morefield and his contributors have chosen well They've chosen filmmakers whose work not only withstands but seems to grow under the bright light of careful consideration I'm not familiar with all of them which makes the collection a useful map to the currents that run below their surfaces but I also found new ways to appreciate Pedro Costa and the Dardenne brothers whose films I ve admired even loved but never thought about in quite this way Reading the essays together I discovered that this group of filmmakers while distinct in their beliefs approaches and aesthetics are all striving to reawaken our senses and by capturing something concrete they're looking for something invisible That they've found so many ways to do this from Del Toro's physically rooted fantasy to Costa's material world proves that cinema may not be dead just yet even with the twentieth
