Tibetan Border Worlds Wim Van Spengen, 2013-01-11 The focus of the study is the Tibetan and Tibetanized border populations in the little known Himalayan high valley of Nyishang in West Central Nepal close to the Tibetan border There a group of traders have greatly extended their external relations over the past century in the form of long distance trade ventures thereby thoroughly changing the internal conditions of socio economic organizations in their home district The object of the study is to establish whether larger geohistorical processes of structural change may be conceptualized in such a way as to link structuration at the level of the localized social group to the dynamics of the wider regional setting

Himalayas Madleina Daehnhardt, 2019-07-17 This book teases out the reasons for and the socio economic impacts of different types of migration on contemporary rural households and individuals The author creatively depicts the dynamic microcosm of one village in the North Indian Kumaun Himalayas near the border with Chinese Tibet giving voice to the life stories of a range of migrants Through this ethnography migration is revealed as a fundamental part of the multifaceted 21st century changes which the village is experiencing From elderly women to unemployed men young farm women and local children the book demonstrates how village life is continually constituted socially and economically by overlapping migration patterns including outmigration return migration in migration and even non migration Extending the argument the author demonstrates that the village microcosm is linked to many other villages which are microcosms in their own right as well as in relation to the main village across a spatial hierarchy The theoretical implications of the study are teased out to inform our understanding of rural urban migration trends and impacts more generally and as such the book will be of interest to researchers of the South Asian region but also of internal migration in the global context Britain and Tibet 1765-1947
