

FANTASY FOOTBALL MORE THAN BRAGGING RIGHTS

4 MORE THAN A GAME 4

74.7 MILLION Americans plan to participate in a Fantasy Football League this year.

64% OF THOSE WILL PLAY FOR MONEY, AND THEY EXPECT TO SPEND, ON AVERAGE, $107 OVERALL ON LEAGUES.

On top of that, a percentage of those people expect to spend money on the following items while participating in Fantasy Football.

80% OF PEOPLE SAY THEY WILL PLAY FANTASY SPORTS FOR THE REST OF THEIR LIFE.

DAILY FANTASY LEAGUES THE NEW BUSINESS MODEL

MANY FANTASY SPORTS ENTHUSIASTS ARE NO LONGER SATISFIED WITH WINNING BRAGGING RIGHTS FROM THEIR FRIENDS; NOW THEY'RE INCREASINGLY VYING FOR CASH PRIZES FROM LEAGUES THAT DON'T REQUIRE THEM TO WAIT AN ENTIRE SEASON TO GET A PAYOUT.

DraftKings plans to give away $1 billion in cash prizes this year, more than triple the $300 million it awarded in 2014.

LAS VEGAS TOTAL SPORTS HANDLE

DRAFTKING AND FANDUEL

FanDuel, which pays out more than $250 million in cash prizes a year, recently raised $275 million from investors.

$25 - $30 MILLION

$60 MILLION

Daily fantasy sites skirt federal online gambling laws (Unlawful Internet Gambling Enforcement Act of 2006) because they're considered games of skill rather than luck.

ABOUT THOSE GAMBLING LAWS AND TAXES

Just because winnings aren't considered gambling income, doesn't mean the income is tax-free. Income or prizes received do have federal and state income tax consequences.

Fantasy sports leagues operate based in the United States, mostly report their prizes using Form 1040, MISC, Miscellaneous Income, typically in Box 3 as Other Income as opposed to Form W-2G, Certain Gambling Winnings.

For almost all fantasy sports players, winnings are best reported using Form 1040, MISC, Miscellaneous Income from fantasy sports includes cash winnings as well as non-cash prizes like gift cards, tickets to sporting games, or anything else of value.

THE EXCEPTION...

If a fantasy sports player engages in the activity as part of their trade or business, the IRS will take that into account when determining if the activity is taxable. That will be taken into account when making this determination.

- The manner in which the taxpayer carries on the activity.
- The expertise of the taxpayer or his advisor.
- The time and effort expended by the taxpayer in carrying on the activity.
- The taxpayer's expectation that assets used in the activity may appreciate in value.
- The success of the taxpayer in carrying on other similar or dissimilar activities.
- The taxpayer's history of income or losses with respect to the activity.
- The amount of occasional profits, if any, that are earned.
- The personal status of the taxpayer.
- The activity has elements of personal pleasure or recreation.

REPORT IT ALL

Even if a fantasy sports player doesn't get a big payout at the end of the season, individual game winnings need to be reported. It's important to print an annual summary of winnings and fees from each site or club in which you participate.

The fantasy sports income can be reported to the players using one of two principal reporting methods: the net payments method or the net earnings method.

NET PAYMENTS is defined as the amount of payouts to the player in excess of the fees paid during the year. In other words, the total winnings are reduced by the fees paid, which does not accurately represent winnings if the player wins one year and loses the next, which is then distributed.

If the players use a third-party processor such as PayPal, they may receive an additional deduction for fees paid to the processor. Transactions, if their activity is substantial enough to require mandatory reporting.

TREATMENT OF EXPENSES OR LOSSES SUCH AS ENTRANCE FEES, LEAGUE FEES, ETC? The rules for deducting losses depend on what type of taxpayer is involved.

Expenses incurred from participating in online fantasy football leagues are usually deductible only up to the amount of income earned where the income is reported on line 21.

EXAMPLES:

If your prize is $5000 and the entrance fee is $1000, the entire $1000 is deductible.

If you win $500, but the entrance fee is $1000, you may only deduct expenses up to $500.

An individual who is not engaged in the trade or business can deduct losses sustained on Schedule A of Form 1040. The amount of deductible expenses cannot exceed the income reported on Schedule A. In addition, hobby expenses and other miscellaneous deductions, including losses, are 2% of AGI threshold – only the amount over 2% of AGI is deductible.

A person not engaged in the trade or business of fantasy sports can deduct expenses as miscellaneous itemized deductions on Schedule A of Form 1040.
