Time Frame
4 days
Brief Summary of Unit
Summary should include curricular context, unit goals, key assessments and activities, use of technology, and accommodations made to accommodate the range of needs in the classroom, including special education or ELL students..
In "Citizens of the World," students will learn about their responsibilities as citizens of the world, and more specifically within their homes and school. They will understand the impacts they make on their physical environment, as well as in their smaller and more local environments such as at home and at school. Students will understand why there are rules put in place, what a collection of these rules are, and why it is important to follow them. Activities used to meet these goals include, but are not limited to, completing a worksheet and sorting activity relating to recycling as well as creating a flip book that summarizes the students' civic responsibilities. Students will be assessed formatively, through the completion of worksheets as well as hands-on activities, and summatively,
