Kids on YouTube Patricia G Lange, 2016-09-17 The mall is so old school these days kids are hanging out on YouTube and depending on whom you ask they're either forging the digital frontier or frittering away their childhoods in anti-intellectual solipsism. Kids on YouTube cuts through the hype, going behind the scenes to understand kids' everyday engagement with new media. Debunking the stereotype of the self-taught computer whiz, new media scholar and filmmaker Patricia G. Lange describes the collaborative social networks kids use to negotiate identity and develop digital literacy on the Tube. Her long-term ethnographic studies also cover peer-based and family-driven video-making dynamics, girl geeks, civic engagement and representational ethics. This book makes key contributions to new media studies, communication science and technology studies, digital anthropology and informal education.

No one in the West has ever made a major motion picture featuring the life of Vladimir Lenin. Showing movies in the dark can damage your eyesight. Showing the wrong movie could get you fired or slapped with a heavy fine. There are ways to obtain free educational films. There are some great books and websites that allow you to learn about the objectionable content and historical accuracy of a film before you show it to your students.
